Enemy Forces Kill 52 Allied Troops

SAIGON (AP) Enemy forces fired 300 mortar rounds to kick off a strong ground push against a province capital 40 miles east of Saigon, South Vietnamese Headquarters reported today. It said at least 100 enemy and 52 government troops were killed in a two-day series of clashes.

The fighting started Thursday morning with the mortar barrage and a ground attack on the headquarters in Xuan Loc of the 52nd Vietnamese Artillery Regiment and the training center of the Government's 18th Infantry Division.

At the same time several 122mm rockets hit the nearby base camp of the U.S. 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment.

Friday, a battalion of the 18th Division was ambushed six miles southeast of Xuan Loc, capital of Long Binh Province. Armored units were sent to reinforce the battalion as artillery and air strikes were called in.

Elsewhere, a lull in ground action in the central highlands was broken Friday when a truck convoy of the U.S. 4th Division was ambushed 12 miles north of Pleiku City, U.S. and Vietnamese tanks and armored personnel carriers reinforced the convoy and engaged two North Vietnamese companies—about 200 men—killing thirty, military spokesmen said. Two Americans were wounded.

In the far north, a recent series of sharp clashes has convinced some officials that the North Vietnamese are moving again across the demilitarized zone into striking position.

If so, the move proved costly Thursday, when U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese reported killing 234 North Vietnamese in four clashes. Three South Vietnamese were killed and 15 Marines and 15 government troops were wounded.

The allied use of armored personnel carriers, tanks and planes was credited with the defeat of the North Vietnamese.

No new fighting was reported Friday along the demilitarized zone that separates the North and South Vietnam.

Intelligence sources have reported the division, North Vietnam's 320th, north of the zone replenishing men and supplies after taking a mauling last spring.

U.S. officials reported that in April and early May, the 320th lost 1,361 men killed in sharp fighting south of the zone.

U.S. officials credited aggressive allied patrolling with touching off Thursday's engagements. They said that while fighting broke off at darkness, the South Vietnamese and Marines remained alert for new attacks.

U.S. military officials have predicted the North Vietnamese may try to cut off the two northernmost provinces of South Vietnam.

Despite the new outbreak of fighting, military officials believe the over-all fighting picture represented a general lull that has lasted for about two months.

They noted that fighting in the central highlands, once a primary target for the North Vietnamese, was a relative standstill, and the enemy seems to be largely avoiding contact in the Mekong Delta, south of Saigon.

On Thursday, however, the Viet Cong ambushed a U.S. Navy flotilla of river assault boats 40 miles south of Saigon and wounded 17 Americans, none seriously.

The U.S. Command, meanwhile, revised sharply upward the number of South Vietnamese killed by an American river force in a similar ambush Aug. 8 in the delta.

The river force guns fired at the ambushers but shells struck a village behind the Viet Cong. The command said 71 civilians and a soldier were killed, rather than the 16 dead previously reported.

Erie Boy Wounded In Hunting Mishap

Ronald Trucza, 15, 1036 E. Third st., Erie, suffered a gun shot wound in the leg in a hunting accident Friday south of Weldbank.

Trucza, Kevin K. Kelly, 17, 1013 E. Second st., Erie, and Stanley Andryejak, 15, also of Erie were hunting fox near their camp, state police said. Kelly and Andryejak were walking along a dirt path when Trucza stepped out of the woods, they said. Kelly tripped and fell and the gun, a 22 magnum pistol, discharged, the bullet striking Trucza in the left leg near the ankle.

The youth was admitted to Warren General Hospital where his condition was listed as satisfactory.

GOLDEN EAGLE TO VANISH

The Golden Eagle program, a permit system that came into being as a part of the Land and Water Conservation Fund Act, will be no more at the end of the present recreation season. The demise of the widely publicized bird was confirmed this week by an official of the local National Forest staff.

The program, which has been subject to extreme controversy ever since its beginning because of poor administration policies and procedures, fell victim to its opponents when President Johnson signed into a law a bill allowing each director of the six federal recreation-related agencies to set up and administer their own schedule of fees to be charged at federal installations under their control.

Possibly the major objection to the passport program came from the hundreds of local communities that felt that the application of Golden Eagle regulations to neighboring federal recreation complexes hampered and interfered with their local tourist business. Several of these communities were represented at public hearings held by Congressional sub-committees.

Others who appeared before these committees stated that while the $7 passport could be considered as a bargain to the cross-country traveler, it could be looked upon as burdensome "use" tax by the local residents who made up the majority of the recreationists using the federal facilities.

While no definite decisions have been made at the local national forest office as to what will be done in lieu of the Golden Eagle program, it is expected by the local staff that some directives will come to them in the near future from the district and Washington offices.

HHH Says Nixon and South Have Formed 'Nixiecrats'

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Hubert Humphrey said Friday that Richard M. Nixon and the Dixiecrats of the "Old South" had forged a new party — "the Nixiecrats."

This, the vice president told the United Federation of Postal Workers, was the spinoff of the Republican convention at Miami Beach.

There, Humphrey said, the Republican nominee "identified himself with the Old South, with that Dixiecrat group."

Humphrey specifically referred to Sen. Strom Thurmond, R.S.C., who was a leader when southerners bolted the Democratic party in 1948, and who became the presidential candidate of the Dixiecrats.

Earlier Friday, in a question and answer session with Pennsylvania delegates to the Democratic convention, Humphrey said he, too, would appeal to the South but to the South of a "new spirit."

Humphrey expressed beliefs that Nixon turned to the "old" South when he picked Maryland Governor Spiro Agnew as his running mate. Humphrey said that while he was looking to the "new" South, he was not looking there for a running mate.

Nixon, Humphrey said, "called upon the midnight of the South, I'm going to call on its dawn."

Humphrey voiced confidence that he would have enough votes to win the Democratic nomination on the first ballot. But he said he had been around in politics long enough to know that sometimes what appeared to be happening hasn't happened.

Humphrey said McCarthy's naming of the kind of cabinet he would choose was like throwing in the towel.

McCarthy revealed Thursday night a list of men he might appoint to his cabinet, including Sen. J.W. Fulbright as a possible secretary of state and John W. Gardner, former secretary of health, education and welfare, as secretary of defense.

Humphrey was asked, at a local television interview in Allentown, Pa., whether he, too, had a list of potential cabinet members.

"No, I haven't," said Humphrey. "I recall that Barry Goldwater had one. I thought that was sort of a sign he had tossed in the towel. He just wanted to mention the names of some friends."

Humphrey said, "If I am elected, I will then start to pick a cabinet. I don't think one ought to play loose and free with the names of distinguished citizens before he is in a position to do something about it."

Humphrey, however, has been

Plan to Cover Anesthetic Bills

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Officials of Blue Cross and Blue Shield completed a plan Friday which will cover the cost of receiving an anesthetic, even if the doctor bills the patient.

The plan will be submitted to State Insurance Commissioner David O. Maxwell Monday for approval.

John J. Sheehy, director of the state's Bureau of Regulation of Rates, said he doesn't think rates will increase at the present time.

Sheehy said the insurance commissioner will meet with "all interested parties" before acting on the proposal. He specifically named the Hospital Council of Western Pennsylvania which opposes any move toward direct patient billing.

Mia Gets 'Quickie' Divorce from Frank

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP) — Actress Mia Farrow, looking lean and sleepless, flew from New York today to El Paso, Tex., for a quickie divorce in Juarez, Mexico.

Miss Farrow was accompanied by three men who said they were lawyers for the 30-minute proceeding before Judge Lorenzo Holguin Senceros in the civil court of Juarez.

Miss Farrow, the daughter of actress Maureen O'Sullivan, charged Sinatra with cruelty and incompatibility and asked to have her maiden name restored.

She said she married the 52-year-old Sinatra in July, 1966 at Las Vegas, that life was unbearable with him and that she had not lived with him as a wife since December of 1967.

Dressed in slacks and a green checkered blouse, she appeared so nervous she could hardly hold the pen. Her hands trembled as she signed the papers at Municipal Palace.

The men accompanying her shoved newsmen and photographers aside, blocking photographs and refusing to let newsmen get close enough for an interview.

Miss Farrow gave her legal residence as Cathedral City, Calif. After the proceedings, she rushed back to El Paso, for a flight to Hollywood.

She came to El Paso in a private plane.

In Hollywood, a spokesman for Miss Farrow said, "She said if anybody asks there's certainly no third party involved." The spokesman declined to be identified.

Sinatra was married twice previously, the first time in 1939 to Nancy Barbato, a childhood sweetheart who bore him three children. After a 1951 divorce, he married actress Ava Gardner, who divorced him two years later.

The willowy, petite Miss Farrow received a pear-shaped, nine-carat engagement ring from Sinatra in New York, where her mother announced plans for her daughter's first marriage.

When they were wed all Hollywood except a few intimates of Sinatra expressed surprise. The bride was younger than one of Sinatra's children.

But Mia's busy life as a young star of television's "Peyton Place" kept them apart.

Sinatra was reportedly irritated because Mia was unable to join him in filming his own picture, "The Detective" on a New York location.

LBJ Content in Self-Imposed Exile from Political Affairs

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson appears reconciled to his self-imposed exile from active 1968 politics but twinges of discomfort in the role — and pain over the circumstances back of it — show through from time to time.

In 1968, for the first time in more than 30 years, Johnson is — at least by all White House accounts — on the outside of a campaign looking in.

It is a position he chose for himself but there is evidence that doesn't mean he has to like it. Rather he treats his course as one dictated by events, and public response to those events, somewhat outside of his own doings.

Press secretary George Christian said Friday he knew of no role being played by Johnson or any of his White House aides in preparations for the Democratic National Convention that begins Aug. 26 in Chicago. He said that included preliminary discussions of the party platform.

At this point, it's far from certain Johnson will even make an appearance in Chicago during the convention. There has been some speculation he might show up Aug. 27 — his 60th birthday.

Four years ago, Johnson was busy as a jumping bean hopping all over the map in an early quest for a big election victory. Now he's mostly keeping out of sight, working and resting at his hill country ranch 65 miles west of here.

But when the President addressed the National Medical Association in Houston Wednesday, you could fairly sense him yearning for a piece of the political action.

Departing repeatedly from a carefully prepared text, he turned his appearance into a 1964-style stump speech that produced 1964-vintage cheers.

In his talk, Johnson displayed little or no bitterness over the transformation from a landslide winner four years ago to a non-candidate in 1968. A few months ago, occasional bitter comments by Johnson were not uncommon.

But the President's sense of hurt was barely veiled at some points. For instance, speaking off the cuff, he offered the following defensive apology for pointing out some of the gains made during his administration:

"Now, you think that your President doesn't know what is going on in this country. You have heard me talk about some of the good things. I think it is necessary in this day and time, when all we read about and all we see, and about all we can get published, is some criticism or something sensational."

For many months, Johnson has been convinced that what he regards as the momentous accomplishments of his administration have been dwarfed in the public consciousness by the war in Vietnam and racial discord at home.

Johnson himself, in his March 31 address to the nation, coupled the announcement of his withdrawal from the presidential contest with the war and the turmoil at home.

He said he had reached his decision because "with America's sons in the field far away, with America's future under challenge here at home, with our hopes — and the world's hopes — for peace in the balance every day, I do not believe that I should devote an hour of my time to any personal partisan causes or to any duties other than the awesome duties of the office."

Johnson left it to associates to spell out the idea that he felt he had become an individual target and his removal might smooth the pathway to peace at home and abroad.

But it seems evident that he personally believes that had his case been given what he would regard as "equal time" his situation might be different today. He also realizes, as he told an audience of radio-television

AT COUNTY FAIR

Jack Kibbey Only Local Winner in Pulling Event

The horse pulling contest was the main attraction yesterday afternoon at the Youngsville-Warren County Fair. Twenty teams divided into light and heavy classes, strained against the skids. Most of the teams were owned by men who are not residents of Warren County.

In fact, only one Warren area team, the team of Jack Kibbey, Warren, earned a place among the winners. Other men transported their teams from as far away as New Bethlehem to take part in the contest.

The winners in the light team class (under 3200 lbs.) were: Mac Hetrick, New Bethlehem; second, Francis Greene, Rushford, N.Y.; third, Harold Phair, Arcade, N.Y.; fourth, John Whitmeyer, Sardinia, N.Y.; fifth, R. A. Hancock, Meadville; and sixth, Doug DeGoller, East Concord, N.Y.

In the heavy class (over 3200 lbs.), the winners were: first, Vincent Mibdaugh, Belmont, N.Y.; second, Paul Graham, Union City; third, Francis Greene, Rushford, N.Y.; fourth, Doug DeGoller, East Concord, N.Y.; fifth, Jack Kibbey, Warren; and sixth, Leo Stepson, Waterford, N.Y.

The winning weight pulled in both classes was 6,400 lbs.

over a distance of 20 feet. Today the fair comes to the end of four activity-filled days with a capper of four major events.

At 11 o'clock this morning, the county 4-H clubs will hold a 4-H Horse show. The best guess is that 40 to 50 horses will be entered.

Beginning at 1:30 this afternoon, the machine that has replaced the horse in most jobs on the farm, the tractor, will show off its pulling ability in a Tractor Pulling Contest.

The evening will be given over again to horses (beginning at 7) when the No-Bar Riding Club of Columbus directs a game show on horseback. The course will consist of ten games with modified games for the junior contestants. The show is open to all contestants. Judging will be done by electric eye and awards will be made for four places.

Gwen and Jerry Collings and Band will take the spotlight at 7:30 p.m. and again at 9:30 p.m. with their country and western music straight from the heart of the country. Whetling, W. Va. Gwen and Jerry, like all performers at the fair this year, have sung on the WWVA Saturday night Jam-boree.

Nigerian Chief Rejects Call For Cease-Fire in Civil War

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Nigeria's chief of state, Maj. Gen. Yakubu Gowon, rejected Friday a call by Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia for a cease-fire in the Nigerian civil war.

With federal commandos reported nearing artillery range of Aba, Biafra's temporary capital, Gowon also turned down an invitation from the emperor to visit Addis Ababa, the site of stalemated peace talks.

A drive north toward Aba from Port Harcourt by two commando columns this week has been viewed as a possible prelude to an all-out federal effort for a military solution to the 13-month-old conflict.

One column was last reported only 10 miles south of Aba.

Lt. Col. C. Odumegwu Ojukwu, the Biafran leader, announced in Addis Ababa before the opening of the peace talks

Aug. 5 that he was ordering his troops to cease fire "as a gesture of sincerity." Nigerians dismissed this as a propaganda move. Ojukwu flew home Aug. 6 as the shooting continued.

The Ethiopian emperor, striving to mediate, called Thursday for a truce and invited both Ojukwu and Gowon to meet in his capital with the Nigerian committee of the Organization of African Unity, sponsor of the peace talks.

Gowon's rejection stymied that plan.

Selassie probed for a new approach. A dispatch from Addis Ababa said he met with leaders of the Nigerian delegation for nearly two hours and then invited the Biafrans to his Jubilee Palace.

Relief for the millions of Biafrans reported starving remained a matter of concern in world capitals.

At the Lambeth Conference in London the 467 bishops of the Anglican communion adopted a resolution welcoming any agreement that could open channels to send in food, medicine and clothing.

The bishops, including seven Nigerians on one side and six on the other in the civil war, called unanimously for all governments to work effectively toward peace and reconciliation.

The Nigerian government has turned down a proposal for a legal airlift of food and medicine and clothing under International Red Cross auspices to a field within Biafra, which would massively expand a traffic now carried on by aerial blockade runners.

The Nigerians insist such supplies must go in by road from Nigerian-held territory. Biafran leaders reject the idea of overland relief. They express fear that food passing through Nigerian hands would be poisoned.

Democrats Eliminate 'Floor Shows'

CHICAGO (AP) — Democratic officials Friday eliminated the traditional floor demonstrations from their national convention, opening Aug. 26.

John M. Bailey, the party's national chairman, said at a press conference that the decision was thrashed out at a meeting of the convention arrangements committee and that it has the concurrence of the three major candidates.

Earlier, at another news conference, Mayor Richard J. Daley opposed a ban on the floor demonstrations.

Bailey also announced the seating plan for the 5,611 delegates and alternates, and said special invitations will be extended to President Johnson; the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference; and the widows of President Kennedy, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Representatives of the National Mobilization Committee to end the War in Vietnam asked help in obtaining permits to demonstrate during the convention week and to sleep in the city's parks and beaches.

Bailey told reporters the committee had discussed this and agreed that locations should be provided for demonstrations. He said in response to questions that he would convey this to Mayor Daley, but that convention officials have no control over such permits.

The decision to do away with planned floor demonstrations came "in view of the desire of many people," Bailey said.

He said presidential contenders Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. George S. McGovern had expressed such desires and that a representative of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy concurred.

Most of the communications equipment for the convention already has been installed.

Spokesmen for the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW) estimated Friday that 75 per cent of the project has been finished.

Television equipment also had been installed.

The IBEW has been on strike since May 8 against the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. In a contract dispute, Union volunteers have been putting in communications since July 25 — but only at the amphitheatre.

Candidate headquarters downtown have to do without new telephones. Thus, Illinois supporters of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey for the Democratic presidential nomination have trotted down a flight of steps from their office at Randolph and State streets and used a pay telephone in Flo's Restaurant.

Jamestown

Bank Gets OK For New Branch

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. — Officers of the Bank of Jamestown announced Friday that they have received the necessary state and federal approval to construct a branch bank in the new Zayre Plaza on Fairmount ave. in Lakewood.

Work on the new plaza began Thursday and is expected to be completed by next Easter.

A bank spokesman said plans for the branch office, drawn up by the Jamestown architectural firm of Howard and Domenici, are being coordinated with plaza architects and call for a free standing Georgian style building which will occupy approximately 3,000 square feet. It will be located in the north-eastern corner of the plaza with separate entrances and exits together with private parking areas. According to bank officials all services of the bank will be available at the branch office including auto drive-in windows, safe deposit vaults and a night depository.

Other business in addition to the Bank of Jamestown to be located in the new plaza include Zayre Department Store which will occupy 70,000 square feet, Eckerd's Drug Store, Loblaw's, a laundromat, a liquor store and a dry cleaner.

Deserter Confesses Assassination Attempt

ATHENS (AP) — The Greek regime announced Friday that 23-year-old army deserter under arrest has confessed to trying to assassinate Premier George Papadopoulos. It stated he acted after meeting in Paris with leftist Andreas Papandreu, an enemy of the regime.

The statements were made at a news conference that ended when government spokesman Byron Stamatopoulos angrily warned off questions about whether left-wing or right-wing groups were to blame for the assassination attempt Tuesday.

Said Stamatopoulos of the suspect, Alexander Panagoulis: "I'm not going to label him either a Fascist or a Communist in this conference."

The regime originally announced the bomb plot was the work of right-wing terrorists but it charged Friday that Panagoulis had met Papandreu and that Papandreu was "morally responsible" for the assassination and had "virtually organized it."

A bomb blast rocked downtown Athens Friday but injured no one. It was the fourth bomb exploded in the capital since the attempt to kill the premier with dynamite blast on a road near Athens.

Stamatopoulos denied that pressure was used to get Panagoulis to sign a confession. He described the army deserter as "a very talkative person." The spokesman said Panagoulis went with police to various areas in Athens to show where he had planned other explosive devices. A police source said Panagoulis was revealing very little about who was behind the attempt.

The regime claimed that Panagoulis' mission was financed by Nicholas Nicolaidis, a member of Papandreu's outlawed Center Union party, who fled to Italy in May 1967 a month after the military seized power. At the time Nicolaidis declared that Greece "might become a Mediterranean Vietnam."

Nicolaidis, in Rome, denied any connection with the assassination attempt, saying, however, "I wish I could only afford money to do that."

Police found 13,000 drachmae ($433) in Panagoulis' possession as he tried to flee, Stamatopoulos said.

Romanian Leader Backs Czech Reform Leadership

PRAGUE (AP) — President Nicolae Ceausescu of Romania threw his full support behind Czechoslovakia's reform leadership Friday and warned other Communist nations against undertaking anything that could further damage unity in the Communist camp.

The visiting chief of state, who also heads Romania's Communist party, and President Ludvik Svoboda of Czechoslovakia signed a new 20-year treaty of friendship, cooperation and mutual assistance.

The Ceausescu, who strays at times from the Kremlin line, expressed a sympathetic view of Czechoslovakia's liberal course in an address before workers at a Prague aircraft factory.

"During our brief stay in Czechoslovakia, we have become convinced anew that the fate of socialism is in safe hands and that your nation has trust in the Communist party," he said.

"A basic condition for strengthening the unity of Socialist countries and of the Communist movement is respect for the right of every party to work out its own policy independently."

"In our opinion, wherever there are differences on this or that problem, it is necessary to resolve these differences in comradely talks, with patience and understanding...The Cerna and Bratislava meetings confirm this."

Ceausescu was referring to the Czechoslovak leadership's talks with the Soviet party Politburo of Cerna and with the Russians and representatives of four other communist countries at Bratislava in the week of July 28 Aug. 3.

"At this time, so many differences have amassed between Socialist countries and in the movement that we regard it as a basic and most urgent requirement not to undertake anything that could bring new tensions or increase the present ones," he said. "On the contrary, everything should be done to increase the unity of Socialist countries."

36 ARE ARRESTED

Police Raid Hippy Farm Near Meadville

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP) — The Harmonburg Hippy, who caused consternation when they moved to the peaceful farmlands of northwestern Pennsylvania, were raided by State Police Friday and put in jail.

Barefoot, the men with hair as long as the women, the 36 adults were loaded aboard a yellow school bus and, singing and chanting, hauled away to the police barracks.

After several hours of questioning, each member was arraigned on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor and operating a disorderly house.

In addition, Dist. Atty. Paul D. Shafer, nephew of the governor, promised to seek an injunction Monday to "abate a nuisance," which would permanently end the colony.

Shafer said he had been investigating the hippies at their farm 10 miles west of Meadville for two months. He ordered the raid and search warrants were sworn out in the morning.

Everybody was asleep when a dozen troopers arrived at the ramshackle farmhouse at 9:30 a.m. The barks of the six dogs and baying of two goats woke them up.

They were calm and philosophical as the troopers herded them aboard the bus.

They sang "America" and chanted poems about the ills of the world as they waited to be driven into town.

Two girls and two children were turned over to juvenile officials.

The hippies, who say they are members of the Anthropodetic Church, were orderly and quiet as Alderman D.W. Ladner read the charges and set bond at $500. None wanted to make it and were sent to jail until a hearing on Monday morning.

Several hundred townspeople gathered on the streets to watch the men, who mostly were bare-chested, and the women, in flowing dresses or slacks, enter the alderman's office and leave for jail.

The hippies had become the area's top tourist attraction. On some Sunday afternoons traffic jams would develop as people from all over the state drove by the farm north of Conneaut Lake to catch a glimpse of the non-conformist society.

But many others were scandalized when the group arrived from California early in June.

A state health officer toured the farmhouse and said it was a health menace. He warned people to stay away for fear of catching hepatitis.

None of the group worked except when the money ran out. They shared what money they got in the mail and the food sent out by sympathetic townsfolk.

One 19-year-old Meadville girl carried some spaghetti out one day and never came home. She was one of those arraigned.

George Hurd, self-styled leader of the group, said the members were not hippies. He said they were part of a spiritual movement based on the brotherhood of man, very much like the early Christians.

"We try to live a life of love," he said. "But first we have to unlearn hate."

Three or four were in their 40s, but most of the group was very young, and joined the colony from California.

The farm, which has long been vacant, belonged to William Close, now living on the West Coast. Hurd said Close gave him permission to use it.

The group got a permit last month to build a church on the foundation of a building that burned down years before. They said they would make a geodesic dome. The permit was revoked when officials learned the group planned to spend only a couple hundred dollars.

Warren Police Justice Issues 100 Warrants Against Motorists

Warren's Police Justice Martha Lawson has issued 100 warrants which will be served on motorists who have failed to pay parking ticket fines.

Those caught in the annual crackdown will find the cost of parking violations increasing from the usual $1 fine if not paid within 24 hours.

Most of those for whom warrants were issued reside in the Warren area and police officials believe the offenses mainly

2 Killed in Explosion At Army Ordnance Depot

MINDEN, La. (AP) — An explosion leveled a bomb-loading section at an Army Ordnance plant early Friday, killing two workers and threatening other areas in the giant 15,000-acre complex.

Four other workers were unaccounted for, a spokesman for the Louisiana Army Ammunition Plant said Friday afternoon. Nine workers were injured, two of them critically, according to hospital spokesmen in nearby Shreveport.

The initial blast at 7:12 a.m. leveled one building and heavily damaged 10 others, police said. Secondary explosions ripped through the complex throughout the morning but fires were reported "under control" early Friday afternoon.

Col. James W. Donald, commanding officer at the plant, warned of "the likelihood of more explosions" in the area of the initial blast. He said the area was evacuated and "further blasts would not endanger personnel."

Killed in the explosion were

Claims Campaign Against Cigarettes Must Be Increased

WASHINGTON (AP) — A surgeon general's task force reported Friday that the campaign against cigarettes must be pressed harder "in view of the serious health hazards which threaten a large portion of our population as a consequence of smoking."

The panel criticized what it called a well-financed public relations effort by the tobacco industry to discredit evidence about the effect of cigarette smoking on health.

In immediate reply, the Tobacco Institute termed the criticism as a "shockingly intemperate defamation of an industry which has led the way in medical research to seek answers in the cigarette controversy."

The task force said efforts against cigarette smoking to date have been encouraging, noting that cigarette consumption now is again declining. Cigarette use dropped sharply after the 1964 surgeon general's report, then rose in 1965-66.

The task force denounced what it termed "the inability or unwillingness of the cigarette industry to face up to the health hazards of smoking or even to admit they exist."

"Large parts of the industry" instead have attacked the evidence, the task force said, and "this well-financed and professionally conducted public relations program, when addressed to the consumer, is encouraging death and disease."

The task force was appointed last November.

It made a number of recommendations, including:

- The Public Health Service should seek tighter restriction on cigarette advertising.
- The Department of Health, Education and Welfare should aid in development of better instruction in schools about the consequences of smoking.
- The department should encourage insurance companies to adjust rates so that "non-smokers will no longer have to pay the extra costs of death and illness associated with cigarette smoking."
- Doctors and other health professionals should set a health example by not smoking and should post "no smoking" signs in their offices and remove ashtrays.
- Wives should form groups to help their husbands stop smoking and pregnant women who smoke should organize to help each other kick the habit.

New School Tops School Board Agenda

The Warren County School District Board will meet Monday to take steps to complete the financing for the soon to be built Allegheny Valley Elementary School.

The school district authority will meet Wednesday evening to pass on the financial arrangements.

The Clarendon teacher-parent group has asked permission to hold a ground breaking ceremony for the new school at the end of August, superintendent of school's Thomas K. Barratt said.

Also on the agenda of the school board is a resolution authorizing an agreement between the School District and Pennsylvania State University for employment of an administrative intern to work with the innovative educational program at Eisenhower High School. The program is funded by the federal government and the school district would be reimbursed by the regional office administering Title III of the federal education act.

Engineers Need Operators

The Pittsburgh District of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers is in need of lock operators, according to the interagency board of the U.S. Civil Service Examiners for Central and Western Pennsylvania.

Starting salary for qualified applicants is $2,700 per hour. Permanent or temporary positions may be had at navigation locks and dams on the Allegheny, Ohio and Monongahela rivers.

Those interested may write the U.S. Civil Service Examiners, Federal Building, 1000 Liberty Ave., Pittsburgh, and request a copy of announcement No. PP-7415 or call the civil service office at the Warren Post Office.

State Recovers $22,000 Relief Money in County

(TMO Harrisburg Bureau)

HARRISBURG — The State Department of Public Welfare said Friday that more public assistance money was recovered by the state in 1967 in Warren County than in the previous year.

During the year, the state recovered $22,012.40 in public assistance money, compared to $15,710.72 in 1966.

The bulk of the collection, $18,246.16, consisted of repayment of assistance grants on a voluntary basis and through the exercise of liens in cases where members of the families helped no longer occupied residential properties.

In addition, $3,776.24 was collected from individuals or families who had misstated or failed to report facts which would have made them ineligible for benefits.

(As a point of "neighborly interest" in Erie County last year the recovery figure was $116,170.47 ($108,481.62 in the previous year); in Crawford County $49,500.76 ($42,360.34) and in McKean County $28,856.76 ($45,405.74).

"Every effort is made to assure that public assistance grants go only to those eligible, but in addition to carefully guarding against incorrect payments, a thorough follow-up is made and steps are taken to recover payments made on the basis of misinformation," Secretary of Public Welfare Dr. Thomas W. Georges Jr. explained.

Army Spec. 4 James R. DeFabio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony DeFabio Sr., 106 North Carver street, Warren, has returned to Madigan General Hospital, Tacoma, Washington after an 18-day leave with his parents. Assigned as a register at Madigan General since November 1967, he received his basic training at Ft. Dix, New Jersey. After completing business administration courses at Ft. Dix, he received eight weeks of training at Ft. Sam Houston, Texas in medical field service to prepare him for his present position. Before entering the service he was employed by Tiona Betts Company.

Public Schools in Warren County to Open September 4

Public schools in Warren County open Wednesday, Sept. 4, the Warren County School District announced Friday. Classes at most schools will begin at 8:15 a.m.

Children who will be five years old on or before Jan. 31, 1969, may enter kindergarten in September. No test is required. Children who will be six years old on or before Jan. 31, 1969, may enter first grade. Parents of children who will enter first grade without having attended kindergarten are asked to call the Warren County Schools Superintendent's office in the county court house and arrange for a pre-school test by the school psychologist.

Registration for children who moved into the school district since the completion of the last school year or who have moved within the school district and will be attending a different school from last year will begin the last week in August.

Pupils attending school at the end of the 1967-68 school term are automatically enrolled in the same school for this year.

Students who have completed sixth grade and will be entering a junior high school in their area are also considered automatically registered.

Registration for children who will be attending Lotisville, Scandia, Plank Road, Seneca, and Starbuck schools may register on the morning of Aug. 30. All other elementary schools with the exception of Lincoln, Clarendon and Washington schools will register students starting Aug. 26. Registration hours will be daily from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. except for Aug. 27 and the Labor Day weekend.

Pupils who will be attending Lincoln, Clarendon or Washington schools may register at Clarendon School after Aug. 26.

To register any child, a parent must present to the principal the child's birth and vaccination certificates. The school district suggests that parents may telephone the building in which their child will attend school to prevent any waste of time due to a temporary absence of the principal.

Pupils transferring to any secondary school in the district are asked to submit a copy of credits earned at the former school. A pupil transferring to any elementary school in the district should present the latest report card from his former school.

Clark Calls For Open Convention

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Joseph S. Clark has called for an open Democratic National Convention that would "throw out the white citizens council representatives and their hand-picked Uncle Toms from Mississippi."

The Pennsylvania Democrat issued the call Friday in a statement read for him at rallies in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia for Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Clark, who insists he still is uncommitted to any candidate for the nomination, was unable to attend either rally. He gave no reason for his absence in the statement.

He called for an open Chicago convention, which he defined as:

—"One in which the officers do not act as puppets for any faction or person," and "one which is not rehearsed."

—"One which abolishes forever the unit rule" and will "in the assignment of delegates to committees give proportional representation to those who may not control the convention machinery."

—"One which will seat only those delegations which are representative of their states. And throw out the white citizens council representatives and their hand-picked Uncle Toms from Mississippi and Alabama."

—"Finally, a convention in which its platform will express the will of the overwhelming majority of Americans who have already, at the polls, repudiated our bankrupt Vietnam policies."

Clark also called for a "representative government" for South Vietnam "in which the representatives of the national liberation front can participate, if that is the will of the people."

In the meantime, he said, the United States should make clear that it is willing to accept an interim coalition government in South Vietnam to "replace the present corrupt, dictatorial regime — and that we expect the NLF to be represented in that coalition."

Youth, Elderly Woman Hurt in Separate Crashes

A 19-year-old Sugar Grove youth suffered minor injuries in a one-car traffic mishap which occurred at 10:30 p.m. Thursday on Route 69, one mile north of Warren.

State police trooper Dennis Hoak stated a car operated by Danny Francis Pratt of 104 Jamestown st., Sugar Grove, traveling north on Route 69, crossed the roadway and struck a private dwelling after the driver fell asleep.

Corry Club Hit Again

CORRY — For the second time in two weeks the Corry Country Club was broken into Wednesday night and cash, liquor and cigarettes stolen.

The burglary was discovered at 8 a.m. when Walter Pittman arrived at the club for work. He spotted the door to the cigarette machine hanging open. Both city and state police are investigating since the clubhouse is located in both Corry and Wayne township.

Officers said entry was gained through an unlocked window. The intruders took about $20 in coin and currency and an undetermined amount of liquor and cigarettes. The entry and theft is almost identical with one which occurred August 1.

Investigators said that although the home trailer of golf pro Joseph Oliver is located near the clubhouse, it is on the opposite side of the entry window. Oliver stated he heard no noises during the night.

Pratz was treated at Warren General Hospital for facial lacerations and the loss of one tooth. Damage to the 1962 Ford sedan was listed at $800.

A 73-year-old Warren woman sustained an injured right arm and leg in a two car accident at the intersection of Hickory road and Route 62 in Fine Grove township at 1:40 p.m. Thursday.

Treated and released at WGH was Bettie D. Witherell, 21 W. Fifth ave., Warren. Trooper Mark Golomb reported that the Witherell car was traveling north on Route 62 and attempted to pass another vehicle in the process of making a left turn onto Hickory road when the Witherell car was struck by an auto operated by George J. Keller, 79, of 385 Dutch Hill rd., traveling south. Total damage was estimated at $1,300.

Scouts Can Attend Class

First Class Scouts or above are invited to register for the Red Cross Swimming and Life Saving Class being held at G. G. Greene pool starting Monday from 6-8 p.m.

Participants must be 12-16 years old. Call the Red Cross office to make a reservation.

Bones of Mastodon Found in Pennsylvania

MARSHALLS CREEK, Pa. (AP) — A team from the William Penn Memorial Museum, Harrisburg, is recovering what is believed to be the bones of the first complete mastodon skeleton found in Pennsylvania.

Albert Mehrin, chief of the museum's natural science section, and head of the five-man team, said Friday, "We think this will be a fine addition to the state museum."

The mastodon skeleton was found in a peat humus bog near here July 5 by John W. Leap, owner of Lakeside Peat Humus Co., and an employee, Paul Strausser.

They were running a drag-line bucket through the bog and pulled up part of the skull.

Dr. James Yoltan, a geology instructor at Upsala College, who was working in the area, identified the bones and the museum sent specialists to examine them.

Donald Hoff, associate curator of the museum, said, "This discovery to date is the most authentic and most complete skeletal recovery of an American mastodon in Pennsylvania."

He said there have been 17 previous mastodon finds in Pennsylvania, but none of those skeletons was complete.

Hoff said the average American mastodon was about 20 feet from the tip of the tusk to the "drop of the tail, weighing about seven tons." He said the one found here appeared to be a young adult that died about 9,000 years ago. He said the bones were in excellent shape.

Mastodons, he said, were browsers, feeding on twigs and leaves, compared to present-day elephants which are grazers and feed on grass.

The team expects to finish recovery operations by the end of next week.

8-Year-Old Boy Saves Sister, 3

JAMESTOWN — A three-year-old girl was rescued by her 8-year-old brother yesterday when fire destroyed their frame house on Kill Buck Road.

Valerie Terhune was sleeping in her crib when the fire started around 4 p.m. Her brother, David Jr., was playing outside but rushed in, took her from her crib and carried her outside.

The blaze apparently started when a charcoal grill, lighted by 14-year-old Linda Terhune, tipped over and set the floor afire.

Firemen from Salamanca, Kill Buck and Great Valley rushed to the scene but were unable to save the building.

When the fire erupted, the children's parents were at work. The alarm was sounded by Joseph Derival, a member of the Salamanca Fire Department, who saw the flames as he was driving past.

Two Face Charges

FALCONER, N. Y. — A trial will be held Sept. 9 for Angelina Frances Scardamaglia of 344 W. Main st., Falconer, and Anthony Joseph DeMalo, 19, of 1 Cowling st., Jamestown, on charges of selling alcoholic beverages to minors.

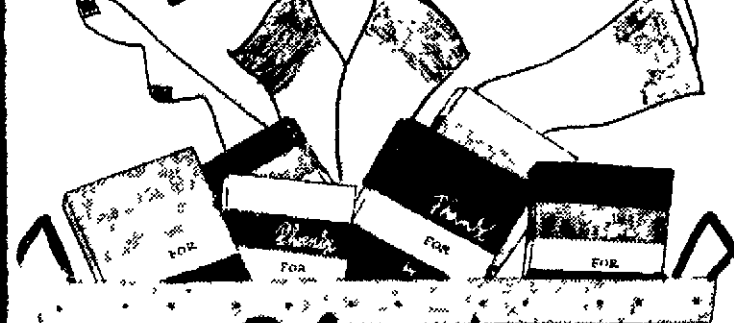

The woman is the owner of Pejo's Restaurant at the West Main street address and the De Malo youth is employed there as a bartender.

Both pleaded innocent August 6 before Peace Justice A. E. Harry Johnson to a charge by state police that they sold drinks to two 17-year-old Warren boys, it was reported.

Justice Johnson set bail at $250 for the restaurant owner and $500 for the bartender. Both posted bail and were freed pending trial.

Pro Quarterbacks Suffer Rash of Pre-Season Hurts

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

With at least seven first or second string quarterbacks already sidelined by injuries, pro football coaches will test their second and third string signal-callers in many of the exhibition games this weekend.

The ailing group of passers include such notables as Joe Namath of the New York Jets, Norm Snead of the Philadelphia Eagles and Sonny Jurgensen of the Washington Redskins, as well as Bill Munson of the Detroit Lions, Dick Shiner of the Pittsburgh Steelers, Jim Ward of the Baltimore Colts and John Stofa of the Cincinnati Bengals.

The four-day, 12-game card got started with the National Football League clash between the Baltimore Colts and Redskins at Washington Friday night.

Eight games are programmed for Saturday night, two for Sunday and one for Monday night. The Monday night clash between the NFL's Chicago Bears, 1-1-0, and Green Bay Packers, 1-1-0, at Milwaukee will be telecast nationally by CBS. Starting time is 9:30 p.m., EDT.

Only the Detroit Lions of the NFL and the Oakland Raiders of the AFL will be idle on this third weekend of rugged exhibitions.

The AFL, which was a 13-3 loser in exhibitions with the NFL last season, holds a surprising 4-2 edge so far in competition with the senior league. Five more interleague games are on this week's card.

Saturday night's program will be highlighted by a collision of two of the NFL's leading teams, the Dallas Cowboys, 1-1-0, and Rams, 2-0-0, at Los Angeles; the first meeting ever of Missouri's two pro teams, St. Louis, 1-0-0, of the NFL and Kansas City, 2-0-0, of the AFL at Kansas City, and the duel of traded AFL quarterbacks, Mike Taliaferro of the Boston Patriots, 0-1-1, and Babe Parilli of the New York Jets, 0-1-0, at Richmond, Va.

Namath, the Jets' hobbled and high-priced quarterback, said he won't play for the second straight week because of a sore and aching left knee.

Other Saturday night games include Minnesota (N), 0-1-0, at Denver (A), 1-0-0; Philadelphia (N), 0-1-0, at Miami (A), 0-0-1; Pittsburgh (N), 0-1-0, at San Diego (A), 1-1-0; New York (N), 1-0-0, vs. Atlanta (N), 0-1-0, at Nashville, Tenn., and Buffalo (A), 1-0-1, at Cincinnati (A), 0-2-0.

On Sunday afternoon, Cleveland (N), 0-1-0, plays at San Francisco (N), 0-2-0, and regional rivals New Orleans (N), 1-0-0, and Houston (A), 2-0-0, meet for the first time at the Astrodome in Houston.

Only five teams in the NFL—Baltimore, Los Angeles, New York, St. Louis and New Orleans—and four AFL teams—Kansas City, Houston, Denver and Buffalo still are unbeaten. Buffalo has been tied once.

Drysdale Stops Bucs

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Don Drysdale, backed by a 12-hit attack and relief help from Jim Brewer and John Billingham, won his 14th game as the Los Angeles Dodgers beat Pittsburgh 8-4 Friday night.

Leading 4-3, the Dodgers clinched the game with three runs in the fifth on a walk to Tom Haller, singles by Bob Bailey, Zolfo Versailles, Drysdale, Willie Crawford and an error.

Drysdale, who has lost 10, was relieved by Brewer after walking the first man in the eighth. Billingham came on with no body out, a run in and two on in the ninth and put down the rally.

The AFL, which was a 13-3 loser in exhibitions with the NFL last season, holds a surprising 4-2 edge so far in competition with the senior league. Five more interleague games are on this week's card.

Saturday night's program will be highlighted by a collision of two of the NFL's leading teams, the Dallas Cowboys, 1-1-0, and Rams, 2-0-0, at Los Angeles; the first meeting ever of Missouri's two pro teams, St. Louis, 1-0-0, of the NFL and Kansas City, 2-0-0, of the AFL at Kansas City, and the duel of traded AFL quarterbacks, Mike Taliaferro of the Boston Patriots, 0-1-1, and Babe Parilli of the New York Jets, 0-1-0, at Richmond, Va.

Namath, the Jets' hobbled and high-priced quarterback, said he won't play for the second straight week because of a sore and aching left knee.

Other Saturday night games include Minnesota (N), 0-1-0, at Denver (A), 1-0-0; Philadelphia (N), 0-1-0, at Miami (A), 0-0-1; Pittsburgh (N), 0-1-0, at San Diego (A), 1-1-0; New York (N), 1-0-0, vs. Atlanta (N), 0-1-0, at Nashville, Tenn., and Buffalo (A), 1-0-1, at Cincinnati (A), 0-2-0.

On Sunday afternoon, Cleveland (N), 0-1-0, plays at San Francisco (N), 0-2-0, and regional rivals New Orleans (N), 1-0-0, and Houston (A), 2-0-0, meet for the first time at the Astrodome in Houston.

Only five teams in the NFL—Baltimore, Los Angeles, New York, St. Louis and New Orleans—and four AFL teams—Kansas City, Houston, Denver and Buffalo still are unbeaten. Buffalo has been tied once.

Only the Detroit Lions of the NFL and the Oakland Raiders of the AFL will be idle on this third weekend of rugged exhibitions.

Hunt Rallies Giants

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ron Hunt capped a three-run rally in the ninth inning with a two-run double that lifted the San Francisco Giants to a 7-5 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Friday night.

A bad hop single, an error and a forceout scored the tying run for the Giants and Bob Bonds then singled to set up Hunt, who also singled in a first inning run.

The Phillies had taken a 5-4 lead when Cookie Rojas' fourth hit drove in two runs in the sixth inning.

LA Rams Can Win It All With Fearsome Foursome

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Wheeling and dealing in 1966, Coach George Allen of the Los Angeles Rams built a club which came close in 1967 and could win it all in the 1968 National Football League campaign.

Roman Gabriel came into his own as the club's quarterback a year ago and Les Josephson surprised as the leading rusher, leading needed support to the veteran Dick Bass.

The "Fearsome Foursome" defensive front wall lost Rosey Grier via injury in 1967 and retirement this season. Another of the Allen trades brought Roger Brown from the Detroit Lions before the past regular league season and the foursome was fearsome again.

Los Angeles compiled an 11-2 record during the regular season to win the Coastal Division title but then lost to Green Bay in the Western Conference title game 28-7. The Packers went on to win the NFL title and then beat Oakland in the Super Bowl.

Most figure Los Angeles to be stronger this year, if for no other reason than as a team playing together for a year and becoming more experienced.

Bernie Casey came to Los Angeles from San Francisco via Atlanta last season and became the leading pass catcher. Jack Snow provided another top receiving threat and Gabriel also was throwing to his backs as he completed 196 of his 371 throws for a 52.8 percentage.

Allen improved the club's punting and added some reserve strength in the three for one deal which sent backup quarterback Bill Munson to Detroit in exchange for Pat Studstill, a receiver who ranks as one of the better kickers, running back Tom Watkins and reserve quarterback Milt Plum.

During this preseason, Allen uses Tommy Mason sparingly and Bass not at all to avoid the injury risk.

Perhaps most underrated is the Ram offensive line. The Rams scored 398 points in 1967 and the offensive line deserves much of the credit. Joe Carollo, Tom Mack, Ken Iman, Joe Schibelli and Charlie Cowan combine with swift on that front line.

Olsen "Deacon" Jones, Merlin Davis, Lamar Lundy, Jones and Brown make up the defensive line — perhaps the best in the NFL.

The linebacking crew again includes Myron Pottios, Tony Gilroy, Maxie Baughan, Jack Pardee and Doug Woodlief.

Right now it looks like a tough job for any rookie to get much of a show this season with these Rams of 1968.

Lightly raced this year, Good Time Boy has three wins in seven starts with two seconds and a third. He has earned $32,501 with a career bankroll of $325,188, one of the top money winners among active pacers.

Cardigan Bay has made 16 starts this year for six wins, a second and a third. The best trip for the 12-year-old gelding was a 1:59 4/5 May 25 at Roosevelt, fastest for any gelding, trotter or pacer in the U.S. this year.

Cardigan Bay is expected to be second choice in the field of six pacers at 5.2. Good Time Boy, owned by the Gray brothers of Providence, R.I., has been installed the early favorite. Good Time Boy, to be driven by Herve Pillon, won a $25,000 invitation at Batavia Downs, N.Y., last week in which Cardigan Bay finished fourth. It was Good Time Boy's second victory over the Dancer pacer in their five meetings.

Rounding out the field are Lady's Prince, Berthorn Walter, Newport Robbi and Bee's Chief. Cardigan Bay has the No. 5 post, with Good Time Boy alongside in No. 6.

SOCIAL

Wanderings

by Marion Honhart

A FUND RAISING CARNIVAL is to be given today for the benefit of the Retarded Children's Fund, at the residence of the George O'Deas, 302 S. State street, North Warren. The entrepreneurs are these young members of the "Raggedy Ann Club", ranging in age from 6 to 11 years: Carol, Lisa and Janice Hughes; Maureen, Kathleen and Karen O'Dea; Cindy Stanton; Linda Brown, and Janet Steadman. The carnival will feature games, a white elephant booth; a bake sale (with the generous cooperation of their moms, of course); soft drinks and other refreshments. Admission is free. The youngsters have spent the greater part of this summer preparing for the event. Hours will be from 1 o'clock until?

ELK TOWNSHIP IS HAVING ITS ANNUAL HOMECOMING, the 38th, on Labor Day, September 2nd. The board of directors announce the day's events will get underway at 10:30 a. m. at Scandia, with the morning service in the Scandia Covenant Church. The guest speaker will be the former pastor, the Rev. K. E. Pearson of Jamestown, N. Y. A ham dinner will be served at 12:30, and at 2 p. m. the sports program will begin under the chairmanship of Richard Campbell. It will feature games for all ages with winners' prizes. Assisting Mr. Campbell will be Fred Mendenhall, Jim Smith, David Reagle and Albert Hawley. Plans are also being made for a musical program at 3 that afternoon. The members of the board of directors who have been in charge of all arrangements include: Mr. Hagberg, general chairman, Mr. Campbell, vice chairman; Mrs. Joseph Rodgers, secretary and treasurer; and, John Nordin, Kenneth Jespersen, Harry Nasman, Ernest Lindell, Mrs. Lathair Swanson, Mrs. Edward Flick, Mrs. Ernest Sandin, David Reagle, Mrs. Ray Wall, Ladies Aid president; and Dr. Fenner Lindblom, chairman of the Scandia Covenant Church. All interested people are invited to attend any part, or all, of the day's festivities.

A LAWN SOCIAL will be held for the public this coming Tuesday evening, August 20th, on the lawn of the Burlingame and Williams families, right across from the Methodist Church on Main street, Russell. The church's WSCS is sponsoring the event, which will feature on its menu of goodies, hot dogs, corn-on-the-cob, coffee and Kool-Aid, home baked pie and cake, ice cream. You can order just what you want and as much as you want, the items are individually priced.

THE LADIES AUXILIARY OF VFW POST No. 631 will be entertaining the Gold Star Mothers at a Dessert-Coffee at 6:30 Tuesday evening, August 20th, in the Post rooms. Afterwards there will be a program of color slides shown of South Carolina by Sister Mary Patricia of Mercyhurst, Erie. Mrs. James Belton is chairman for the social evening and assisting her are Mrs. John Dutchess and Mrs. R. W. Swanson.

TODAY THE FUN STARTS AT 2 P. M. at the Y-Bar-J Saddle Ranch at Scandia for the F.O.E. Auxiliary members and their escorts who will be picnicking out there. The program of entertainment will feature an afternoon and evening of guaranteed fun, good food, such as hot dogs, hamburgers, corn-on-the-cob, fried potatoes, and a variety of tureens. Each member is to bring a tureen of her own choice and her own silverware. The picnic dinner will be served at 6 p. m.

MINIATURES: Teenagers of Warren State Hospital will be guests of adults and teenagers of St. Clara's and St. Anthony's Parishes at a party on Monday, August 19th, at St. Paul Center, Saybrook. Music for the evening will be provided by "The Chocolate Elevators."

Legion Auxiliary Hosts Gold Stars

A dinner for Gold Star Mothers preceded the meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary of Chief Cornplanter Unit Number 135 in the American Legion Home on Pennsylvania avenue, Tuesday evening of this week. Before being seated, each mother was presented a rosebud corsage by Mrs. Helena Fox. At the meeting which followed Mrs. Gerda Carlson gave the final report on the Poppy Sale and Mrs. Medna Cannon, the final report on the Bake Sale. Those present were informed by the president, Mrs. A. H. Foy, that there will be a picnic at Warren State Hospital for all the patients from Warren County, which will include many veterans and veterans' children. The event will take place on Wednesday, August 21. Cakes were solicited from any members who care to donate. Tables for the Gold Star Mothers' dinner were attractively ornamented with flower arrangements and gold tapers. Individual placemats were used with favors that had name cards and the year's membership card attached. A variety of tureens, baked ham and scalloped potatoes were served, and for dessert, cherry tarts.

As special gifts, drawings were made for baskets of flowers, with the following being the fortunate recipients: Mrs. Ella Mauk, Margaret Schwab, Anna Seaquist, Pearl Feiro, Ruth Green, Emma Klernan and Ethel Lindahl. Mrs. Maul, on behalf of the Gold Star Mothers, thanked the auxiliary members for the very enjoyable evening.

The next meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary will take place on Tuesday, September 10.

FAKED MOTHERHOOD

SRINAGAR, India (AP) — When many teachers in a girls' school suddenly went on maternity leave, the authorities became suspicious.

It was discovered that the women who had gone on maternity leave either did not exist, or were unmarried, and some were widows. The maternity leave device was the way the headmistress pocketed the monetary benefits given to expecting mothers.

Vivian R. Hansen Bride In Bethlehem Covenant Ceremony

Vivian Roberta Hansen and Leonard Orval Majors exchanged nuptial vows recently in the Bethlehem Covenant Church. The Rev. Alan Hearl read the double ring rites in the presence of one hundred guests on Saturday afternoon, April 10, at 2 o'clock. Mrs. L. Check provided traditional wedding music at the organ.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Clara V. Hansen of 412 Chestnut street, Warren, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Mae Majors of 1735 South Meridian street, Wichita, Kansas.

Presented in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Elmer Ploss, the bride wore a wedding gown of white Jakarta linen in a skimmer silhouette, fashioned with brief sleeves; braid embroidery encircled the bateau neckline which dipped low at the back. A pert bow topped the floating back panels. A cluster of tulle petals with Venetian lace daisies centered with seed pearls held her bouffant veil of English silk illusion, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Susan Carlson of Cindy Creek Farm, Sugar Grove, wore a gown of powder blue and also had a bouquet of white carnations. The best man was William Martin of Warren.

The mother of the bride chose a silk flowered dress and black accessories for her daughter's wedding.

A reception followed in the Ben White Barn at Starbrick with approximately one hundred guests attending. Music was provided by the Al Gordon Combo and Ken Stratton was the guest soloist. The master and mistress of ceremonies were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carlson; aides were Mrs. Janet Peterson, Mrs. Judy Greenawalt, Mrs. Mary Andersen, Miss Marian Simonsen, Miss Janet Hansen, Miss Val Jean Gilmore, Miss Becky Hansen.

After returning from a honeymoon in Buffalo, N.Y., and Niagara Falls, N.Y., the newlyweds are residing at 129 E. Wayne street, Warren.

The bride is employed at Warren General Hospital and the groom at Warren State Hospital. The rehearsal dinner was given at the Lazy Susan Restaurant.

Out of town guests attended from Youngsville, Sugar Grove, and Ashville, N.Y.

Hints From Heloise

DEAR FOLKS:

As you all know, just about everything now comes in fizz cans of all sizes. And most all have a top that fits over the "fizzer." Well, don't, I repeat DON'T, throw away those tops after you've used up all that fizz. They make dandy little measuring cups!

The top from a large can I had measures 1/4 cup, a medium-size, 1/4 cup and a very small one, 1 tablespoon. Just test the tops you have and use a felt-tip marker to write the measurement on the bottom so you'll remember.

They're ever so handy to keep in your flour, sugar, coffee, etc.

I never seem to have enough measuring cups and spoons in my kitchen, so I've been saving all my "fizz tops." Why don't you give it a whirl too?

Won't cost you a copper penny. Or are they even copper nowadays?

Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

Our guest bedroom is fairly large, but filled with so much "let's keep it" furniture. And the twin beds in there crowd the room.

So I bought a lovely king-size bedspread on sale and pushed the beds together. Lo and behold, it fits perfectly over the two beds.

More room, only one spread to buy, and it looks different.

Mrs. Philip Rowe

The Halls Of Ivy

Area students named to the Dean's List at Indiana University of Pennsylvania for the second semester of the 1967-68 term are:

Beverly Christle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Christle of 4 Warren Blvd.; Patricia Dashem, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Dashem of 22 Jefferson Avenue; Janet R. Gebhardt, daughter of Mrs. Fred Gebhardt of 4 Jefferson Avenue; Betty J. Henry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack A. Henry of 1906 Pennsylvania Avenue East; Barbara J. Kyler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kyler of 222 Main Avenue; Allen G. Norton, husband of Mrs. Karen Norton of R.D. 2, Russell; Sue Ann Reagle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Reagle of Route 1, Bear Lake; Cathryn A. Rich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo L. Rich of 216 Parker Street, Warren.

James M. Kerven, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kerven, 9 Jackson Avenue, enrolled in the Business Administration course of studies at Syracuse University, Syracuse, N.Y., was named to the Dean's List for the spring term of 1967-68.

THEY LIKE SCHOOL

HOBBS, N.M. (AP) — The children of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Castle of Hobbs in southeast New Mexico are being champions at getting to school.

Elizabeth Castle, 15, had perfect attendance records in seventh, eighth and ninth grades. Her brother, Cecil Jr., 10, had perfect attendance marks for the second, third and fourth grades. Another sister, Mary Lou, 9, had no absences in the second and third grades.

Before moving to Hobbs from Roswell, Elizabeth had perfect attendance marks for fifth and sixth grades and Cecil Jr. has a perfect mark in the first grade.

Coming up? The couple's 3-year-old twin girls, still too young for school.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE:

On our terrace my husband was forever seeding or sodding the corner, but our son's friends seemed to prefer that entrance and exit to the cement steps!

Finally my husband bought seeds and told our son to plant them. . . he sure keeps his friends off now.

Sara W. Ross

DEAR HELOISE:

I want to tell you how my friend, whose husband was raised in China, makes fried rice. It's so good and terrifically easy.

Cook a recipe of rice a day ahead of time, 1 cup of dry rice to 2 cups water. This is better if it has dried out, but you can do it early and let cool.

Then brown four or five slices of diced bacon (crisp) in a heavy skillet. Do not pour off the drippings. Push bacon to side of the skillet when done and turn down the heat.

Next break in three or four whole eggs and scramble in the bacon drippings. Add the rice and three or four cut-up green onions (or scallions) - tops and all.

Now add soy sauce until it's as brown as you desire. Stir good, and cook on low heat 15 to 20 minutes and serve.

This amount will serve four to six people.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR READERS: Recently a 14-year-old girl asked, "Why can't girls be paper boys?" She pointed out that girls were every bit as reliable as boys, that they needed the extra money, just as boys do, and that many girls help their brothers by carrying their papers when brother is ill. "It seems unfair," the young girl wrote, "that we should be shut out of this field. Please tell me the reason for this."

I admitted I didn't know the answer and put the question to the circulation managers around the country. I received hundreds of answers and learned, to my surprise, that in some areas girls ARE permitted to be paper "boys."

But in most places they're not, and since rank hath its privileges, I am printing the letter from the president of the International Circulation Managers Association, Mr. Leon S. Reed of Little Rock, Arkansas.

DEAR ANN: You asked why can't girls be carrier boys? As president of a 70-year-old organization which represents over a million carrier salesmen, I would like to respond to your question.

There are many reasons, and I will cite a few: Today's newspapers are big. Sunday's average is 1½ pounds. It takes a strong boy to carry 100 papers. If a subscriber saw a 14-year-old girl carrying this load we'd get plenty of phone calls.

Many carrier salesmen must be on the drop corner at 4:45 a.m. They often stay out as late as 8:00 p.m. making collections. Many of the larger cities are not safe for a young girl at those hours.

There are also legal restrictions in some areas on girls doing such work.

With the ever-increasing circulation of newspapers, we need all the carrier salesmen we can get. But because circulation people are still concerned about youth we feel that using girl carriers is not in the best interest of the girls, especially in the larger cities.—LEON S. REED

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Jordie and I have been married two years. We are expecting our first child. We want to name the child Jordie, Junior, but we have a problem.

A girl Jordie used to date gave birth to an out-of-wedlock child three years ago. She named the boy Jordie and told everyone my husband is the father. This girl is a notorious liar and has a poor reputation.

Are there any tests that can prove the child is not Jordie's? Please help us.—MRS. P. G.

DEAR MRS.: Yes. There are blood tests that can prove a man did NOT father the child whose paternity is in question. There are no tests, however, that can prove he DID father the child.

Suggest to Jordie that he see a doctor who can explain this better than I did.

CONFIDENTIAL TO HAVEN'T SAID YES AND HAVEN'T SAID NO: Say no. I'll bet those attractive young men who are fighting for your hand are fighting for the one with the diamonds on it. The age difference is the tipoff.

Alcohol is no shortcut to social success. If you think you have to drink to be accepted by your friends, get the facts. Read "Booze and You—For Teen-Agers Only," by Ann Landers. Send 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Women Entertained While Hair Dries

CHICAGO (AP) — A beauty salon with a miniature movie theater? In the round? And an art gallery?

The 1,000 women who migrate once a week to a beauty salon on fashionable Michigan Avenue in downtown Chicago don't have to while away the time with tattered movie magazines and idle chit-chat. They're entertained with color movies while sitting under hair dryers. They hear the sound with earphones.

"This is the first time anywhere in America that a beauty salon has brought films to its customers," said Frederick Woods, co-owner of the Kaya-Pierre salon.

Customers can view the art by contemporary artists, and if they fancy a work, can take it home. The art is made available by Chicago-area artists.

"I have been involved with theater and the entertainment business ever since I was a kid," Woods said. "So I brought it into the beauty business."

The films average in length 20 to 40 minutes, about the time it takes to dry a hairdo.

"She forgets all about her problems and is immersed in the film," Woods said. "And she doesn't have to pay for that. It's free."

Farrell-Angove Nuptials

Linda Rae Farrell and Douglas Lindsey Angove were united in marriage Saturday, August 10 in the Church of the Nazarene in a 2 o'clock afternoon service. The Rev. John Gardner, pastor, read the double ring wedding rites in the presence of one hundred seventy-five guests. Altar decorations included two standing baskets of white gladioli with pink carnations. Miss Gladys Judd was the organist. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo V. Farrell of 90 Pleasant Drive, Warren, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeral Angove, Russell.

Approaching the altar on the arm of her father, the bride was gowned in a white fitted sheath with a cage effect of chantilace styled with a bateau neckline and long traditional sleeves. At the back yoke line was a matching detachable court train of chantilace. Her veil was of silk illusion attached to a forward headpiece of pearled organza petals with crystal trim. A cascade of white carnations and pink sweetheart roses made up the bridal bouquet.

Joan Farrell, sister of the bride, wore a gown of candy pink sheath chiffon and matching candy pink chiffon cage effect with long Bishop sleeves. Matching veils were attached to silk organza petals and double roses. Marlene Farrell, sister of the bride, and Pat Roberts served as bridesmaids. They were dressed similarly to the honor attendant in a lighter shade of pink. The attendants carried cascades of pink carnations with light pink net interwoven.

Best man was Bill Angove, brother of the groom from Troy, Pa. Ushers were Jack Angove, brother of the groom, and Jim Rieder, cousin of the bride from Warren.

The mother of the bride chose an ice blue shantung dress with bone accessories. The mother of the bridegroom wore a white and green print crepe dress with green accessories. Both mothers were presented with yellow rose corsages. Mrs. John Rieder, grandmother of the bride was remembered with a corsage of yellow carnations. The grandmother of the groom, Mrs. Hayden Pickup, was given a corsage of pink carnations.

The wedding reception was held at the YWCA with one hundred seventy-five guests attending. Decorations were carried out in pink and white with the bridal table being decorated with a pair of candelabra and bridal bouquets. Aides included ed Mrs. Orlo Rieder, aunt of the bride, Anita Gray, cousin of the bride, Joyce Dyke, Rita Kasaback and Dorothy Hamilton.

For traveling to Denver, Colorado, the new Mrs. Angove chose a multicolored striped dress and coat ensemble with dark brown patent accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations and pink roses from the bridal bouquet. After August 18 the newlyweds will reside at 113 Kinzua road, Warren. Mrs. Angove, a graduate of Warren High School, is now employed by the Bell Telephone District Office. Mr. Angove is a graduate of Eisenhower High School and is employed for the summer at the Pennsylvania Bank and Trust. He is a senior at Clarion State College majoring in physics.

Pre-nuptial affairs were given by Joyce Dyke, Martha Dyke, Rita Kasaback and bridal attendants. Rehearsal dinner was given at the home of the groom's parents.

Out of town guests were from Troy, Erie, Tionesta, Russell, Kane, East Hickory and James-town.

"Let's talk dry cleaning"

By HOWARD WATERFIELD

There's not much that's more annoying than to take an otherwise clean garment from the hanger and discover a spot on it after just one wearing. "Where did it come from?" you ask. "Is it a food stain? Beverage? Perfume?" You have no way of telling.

When this happens, it's wise to get the garment to your cleaner as quickly as possible. While some stains are irremovable, most of them do come out with proper cleaning. Food stains, stains from tea, coffee, soft drinks and fruit juices, should be scientifically removed quickly, before they become oxidized by exposure to air and heat.

Dye stains are usually the most difficult to remove from dark and pastel fabrics. White fabrics yield to bleaches which can usually remove the dye stain. Oil stains come out easily when fresh, yet they are often impossible to remove completely after they have aged for a time.

A word of warning: never try to remove an unidentified stain by home cleaning agents. You might come up with a ruined garment! Proper cleaning by specialists costs less in the long run, makes your clothes last longer.

Easter Seals Provide Summer Speech Clinic

By FRANKLIN R. HOFF

A summer speech clinic for young children, under the auspices of the Crippled Children's Committee of Warren County during the past six weeks, ends this week. The program has been supported entirely from Warren County's share of the annual Easter Seal sales.

The Crippled Children's Committee and its staff have been aware for some time that, in addition to present speech programs in the county, there was a need for individual assistance for many young children in connection with a variety of speech problems. After conferences with various speech therapists in the county, it was decided to provide a summer speech clinic, in the hope it might prove to be a successful experiment. It is the first time any program of this nature has been attempted in Warren County.

As the clinic ends this week, the speech therapists who have conducted it, Mrs. George Perkins and Mrs. Robert McCullough, report it has exceeded all expectations.

There have been 24 children enrolled in the program. They range in age from kindergarten through the sixth grade. All of them were referred to the clinic by speech and hearing therapists from various schools in the county, who felt additional individual therapy might prove helpful.

Children living in the northern section of Warren County met twice each week at Market Street School in Warren. Those from the southern part of the county came to Youngsville Elementary School.

Each child received at least a half hour of individual attention and therapy at each session.

A variety of speech problems were involved—such as stuttering, voice disorders, cleft palate difficulty, poor articulation, delayed speech, poor language development, difficulty in hearing and others.

Great importance is attached to helping such children achieve adequate speech development, because without it any child is severely handicapped in his own environment. Such a child almost inevitably finds great difficulty in his school setting.

Mrs. McCullough and Mrs. Perkins feel the excellent progress made by nearly every child who attended the summer speech clinic is in large measure due not only to the therapy employed, but to the whole-hearted cooperation at home by their parents. Also indispensable was the assistance on the part of Mrs. Mary Dickerson R.N., Crippled Children's Committee nurse and Mrs. Lois King, the committee's secretary, who scheduled the children's appointments and performed the great amount of secretarial work involved in an undertaking of this nature. Also invaluable was the support and assistance of the Crippled Children's Committee of Warren County, of which Miss Mary Craft is president.

At the outset of the program, each child received complete speech evaluation. From those studies, therapy was planned individually. Audiometric tests were given, to determine whether there might be any hearing loss involved. If this was evident, further testing was given to find the extent of loss, and measures taken to correct it.

"At the beginning, the child is taught the correct sound placement," Mrs. McCullough explains. "As he progresses, he uses that sound in words, then phrases and sentences. The ultimate goal is every-day use in conversational speech—which we call 'carry-over,'" she adds.

In some cases a mirror is used, to enable the child to recognize how a given sound is produced—and see how the correct sound is made. "With mirror practice," says Mrs. Perkins, "he can see how the lips, tongue and jaw are used to make the sound properly. But the mirror is only one method of showing him."

The tape recorder is another valuable help. "The child speaks into a tape recorder, then the tape is played back, so he hears himself and gets a clearer picture of how he actually sounds," Mrs. McCullough explains. "This technique is widely used in the field of learning new speech patterns, such as in acquiring a second language. It is equally efficacious in speech therapy, as it enables the student to hear his own speech patterns, and—if any deviations exist—to help correct them."

At the beginning of the six weeks sessions, each of the children made his own special "Speech Book." These are illustrated by pictures he pastes in them. They are taken home, after each session, for work at home. At the end of the summer, the speech book becomes a permanent record for reference and review, at home.

"Mom and Dad are an integral part of this entire program,"

Over 300 Take Part in Bike Rodeo '500'

By NANCY HULTQUIST

Four days ago Warren had a happening. A small one, but a happening nonetheless. More than 600 people attended it. Three hundred and ten people participated in it. And it took place in Beaty Junior High School's parking lot.

The "it" in question was a bike rodeo. Sponsored by the Warren County School District's recreation department and the Warren Times-Mirror and Observer, the contest was Warren's second annual Bike Rodeo "500" and offered $220 in cash prizes.

It was a test of skill, judgment, balance and general good handling; the theme, according to supervisor of playgrounds Andy Randas, was "to teach bike safety."

The day began with bicycle registration and inspection at 11 p.m., directed by the Warren Police Department. To supervise the event, officer James W. Neall was on hand all day and he reported 175 bicycles passed.

Contestants were divided into four age groups: peanut (6 to 8 years old), midget (9 to 11), junior (12 to 14) and senior (15 to 17). With a possible high score of 500, the young people competed on a basis of points and speed in number of seconds required to steer through the obstacle course.

First prize in each age group was $25, while a $15 check was awarded to each runner-up. Third place was worth $10 and the fourth place winner received $5.

Police Chief Michael Evan paid several visits to the rodeo, talking with many of the participants. His department furnished all road signs used in the contest. The Parks Department painted the course.

To act as impartial and unbiased scorekeepers, recreation department director Hal Miller enlisted supervisors from various playgrounds in the area. They were assisted by several Boy Scouts of the county who received safety merit badges for their efforts.

In its first year, the bike rodeo had 191 participants. This year there were 310 and next year even more are expected. Why? Because a bike rodeo is a perfect chance to win a prize, to learn bike safety measures and, perhaps the best reason of all, to have fun.

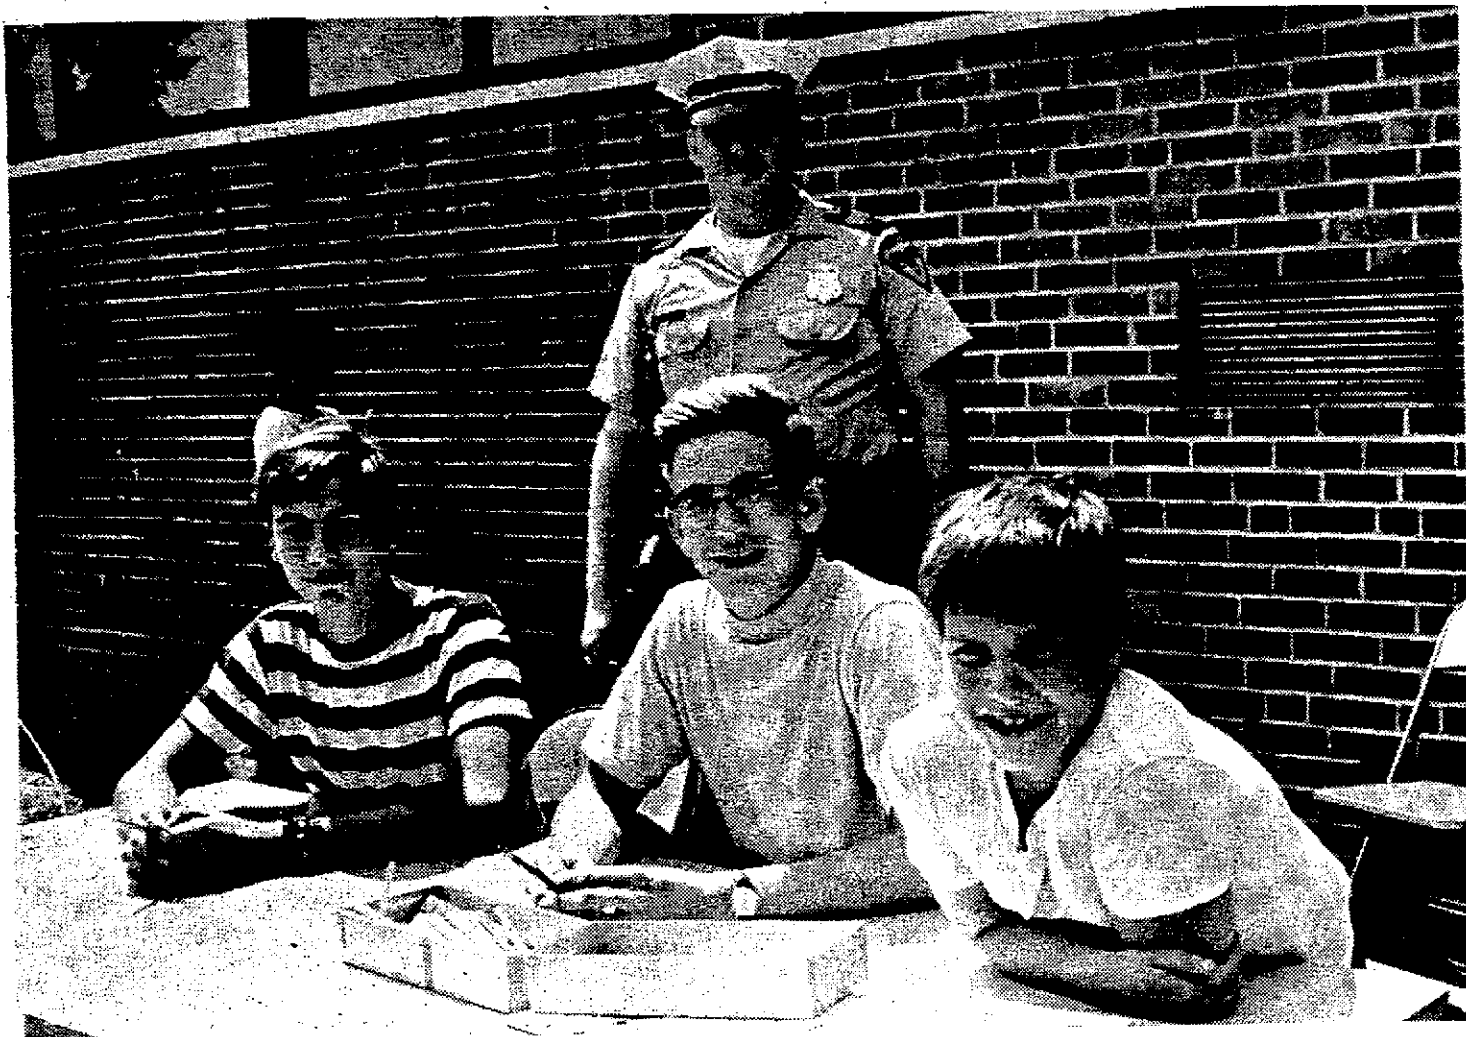

RARIN' TO GO

There was less confusion in the Oklahoma Division were anxious to be off and riding. Land Rush of 1889. Contestants in the Peanut

BREAK DOWN

Oh, no! Chain trouble before the start is enough to make anyone nervous. Randy Guevarra gets help from two older mechanics.

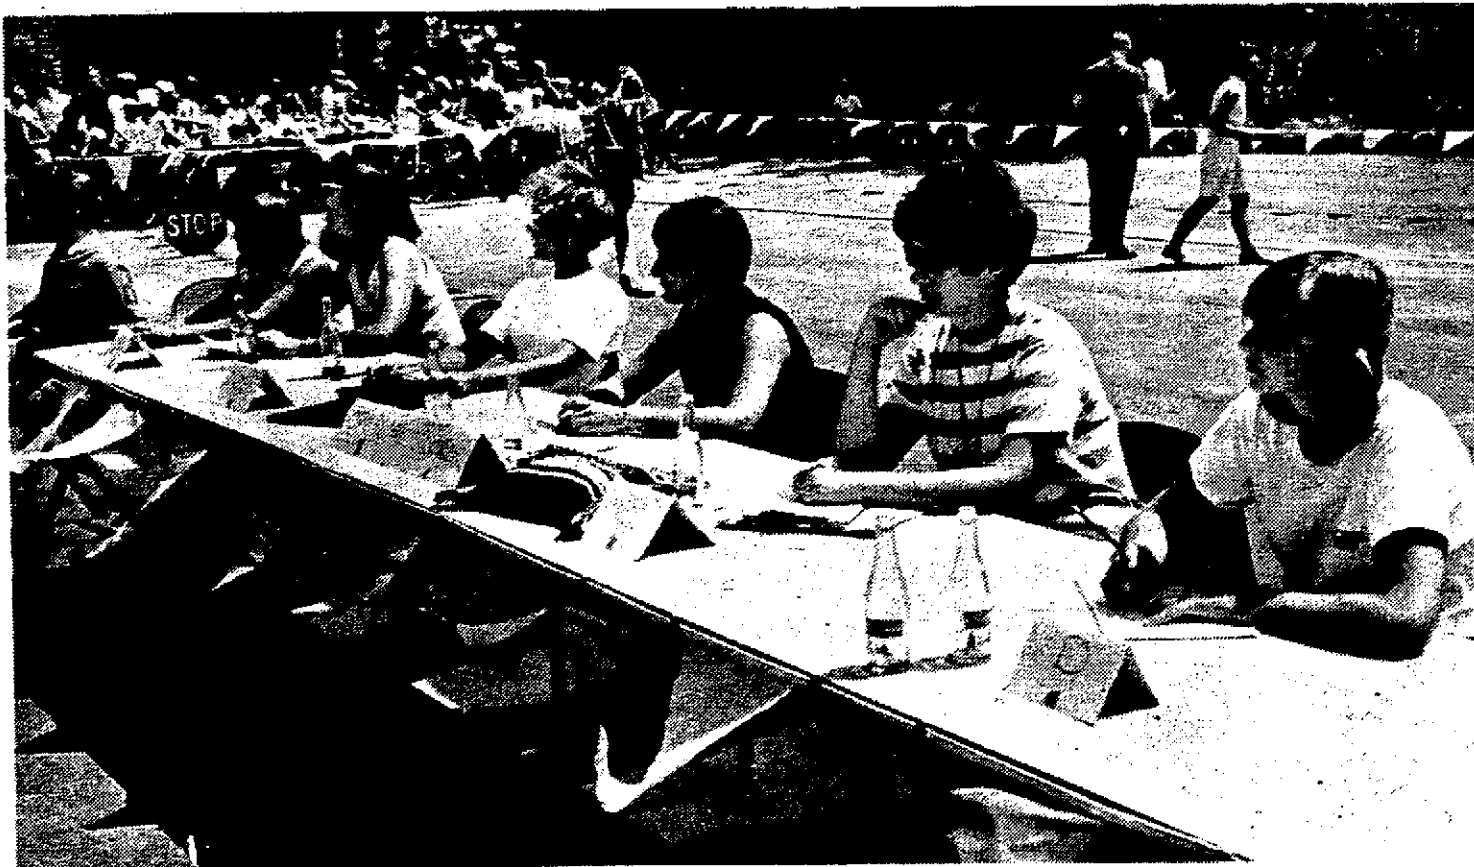

REGISTRATION

At 11 a. m. these young men, under the direction of police officer James Neall, began registering the bikes for the contest. Left to right are Ralph Seiffe, Richard McClain and Steven Fox.

ABILITY

"Mom told me there'd be days like this," Kathy O'Neill weaves her way along while she keeps her eyes on the road and the officials keep their eyes on her.

JUDGES

Nobody can be expected to make a cool judgment under a hot sun. Just before the rodeo began, the scorekeepers were given a bottle of pop to clear their minds (?). From the left:

Bill McClain of the Boy Scouts; Ruth Mohny, summer helper at the OEO; Cecilia Musante, Linda McConnell, Mary DeMott, Josie Gerardi and Sara Meacham, playground supervisors.

CLOSE

"One more time around and I'll have it made!" A rodeo is serious business to Linda Kane, judging from the intent look on her face.

Your Horoscope By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SATURDAY, AUGUST 17, 1968

ARIES (March 21 to April 20)—Do not become dismayed at possible delays or disappointment. You can rise above both. Arians have both spunk and insight. This day calls for their careful but definite use.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)—An "itty" sort of day, much depending upon your ingenuity and the use of straightforward tactics. But don't burn the candle at both ends, as Taureans sometimes do. Let some pleasures wait.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)—Mercury and other planetary aspects indicate that it will be well to take precautions against "small" errors that could have grievous repercussions later, and do place emphasis where it belongs. Logical.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)—March progressively with the best of them, and maintain the Cancerian's marvelous sense of humor. Your knowledge of human nature and ability to transcend the ordinary give you status.

LEO (July 24 to August 23)—Before it grows late, attend to those tricky or "mean" minor tasks, lest they become a problem. Educational, business and technical matters slated for advance.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23)—You can make your personality felt in many departments. But if success doesn't come as rapidly as you wish, your thoughtful manner and neat orderly system will carry weight soon.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23)—A better outlook than you may think at first. Look to the Libran's special talents and know-how for the uniform progress you desire. Appraise values warily.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 22)—Avoid delays in matters and issues which, while not pressing, should nevertheless be handled before they clutter your program. General progress should spur individual gains.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21)—More than you wish of details, extra or unexpected responsibilities? Get all in order early and, with vigilance and clearcut deliberation, break through obstacles. Think calmly.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20)—Your innately good style, demeanor and over-all attitude can win laurels. Disinclination or reluctance, however, will surely disenchant others and hurt your cause. You know the route: Take it sturdily.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19)—Some crash programs are necessary, others are initiated without proper co-ordination or organization; then all involved suffer needless delays, aggravation. Watch trends.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20)—Go for broke where you have all the facts, the know-how and the time for proper accomplishment. In spots, you may have to work against time, but you can do this if well prepared.

YOU BORN TODAY are possessed of personality, buoyance, good spirits, and restrained enthusiasm. The Leo lives for, and with, people and forward-moving events, yet counters with unexpected force. You strike back occasionally for apparently no reason for you can see more in a retort or act than may be implied. Smile away friction, and your fine talents and attractive self will emerge triumphant. Your generous, proud heart beats strongly for home ties. Birthdate of: David Crockett, American frontiersman.

AUBURN, Ky. (AP) — More than 2,000 items used by Shakers, a religious sect which settled here in 1807, are housed in a museum in Auburn.

How to Keep Well By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

THE NEW NOSE

Some plastic surgeons approach their job with artistry. They fashion the new nose to fit the face. Others cut the same old pattern, and one style goes on all patients.

Certain individuals make the plastic surgeon suspicious. They don't want much done, saying "Just remove the hump," or "Make my nose a bit shorter or thinner." These people never will be satisfied with the outcome because they blame all their troubles on a minor facial defect. When they cannot resort to the old alibi, they are like fish out of water.

The desire to be attractive is so strong it is almost instinctive. An emotionally stable person ignores a minor imperfection. But, when someone wants a slight defect eradicated, the chances are good that his basic problem will remain.

Younger persons are more easily satisfied in this respect. Mature men and women who have lived with their defect for decades seem to expect miracles. The young adult also is more appreciative, especially when he has developed an inferiority complex because of the impairment. Children can be brutally frank, and at times many can be cruel. A lad with a hook nose, for example, tends to be shy and easily embarrassed by thoughtless and heartless comments.

A perfect nose may be wasted when it does not match the face. Others are disappointed when the fantasy image they have created does not come up to expectations. Or perhaps the alteration has not brought the world to its feet.

Snide remarks such as "Mary, you don't look any different" are best unsaid. It also is disappointing to have corrections go unnoticed.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

PETTING STRANGE DOGS

A mother writes: My 6-year-old son is a dog lover and this presents problems when the weather is warm. I don't want to squash his trait nor is it my intention to become overly anxious and end up with a youngster who is morbidly afraid of animals. Please advise.

REPLY

Impress on the boy that he must use simple precautions when he is near dogs. Tell him never to pet or annoy a strange animal. We have a leaflet on dog bites which offers suggestions that might be helpful in your perplexity. It can be obtained by sending stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.

CANCER OF RECTUM

A reader writes: What are the symptoms of cancer of the rectum?

REPLY

Rectal carcinoma may exist for months before causing constipation or other disturbances in bowel function. Blood and pain are other symptoms of the disease.

AVOID THE FALL RUSH
SWITCH NOW TO GAS HEAT

WEIL-McLAIN COMPACT GAS BOILER
For hot water or steam systems

- Big capacity in small size—only counter top high
- Built in tankless water heater available for year round hot water—saves money and space
- Rugged, corrosion-resistant cast iron construction
- Handsome jacket fully insulated with foil-backed Fibreglas

There's nothing like gas heat to relieve you completely of winter work and worry. And nothing like a Weil-McLain Cast Iron Gas Boiler for efficiency and long life.

Remember, too, that Gas heat is clean, safe and dependable—yet costs only about one-third as much to operate as electric heat.

AT CHAUTAUQUA

Choir to Present Sacred Music Concert, 'A Very Present Help'

Chautauqua, New York — The Chautauqua Choir will present a program of great sacred music entitled "A Very Present Help" tomorrow evening (Sunday) at 8 o'clock. Texts for this hour of worship through music will be drawn from the Book of Psalms. The Choir will be conducted by W. William Wagner. Organ accompaniments will be played by Robert V. Woodside. Dr. Herbert Gezor, head of the Department of Religion, will preside.

Soloists for the presentation will include Suzanne Troxell, soprano, and Penny La Borde, mezzo-soprano, both of whom appeared with the choir in their presentation of the Rossini "Stabat Mater" and other Sacred Song Services this year. Both are students at the Eastman School of Music. Tenor soloist will be William Kammann, a resident of Jamestown who is a student at Allegheny College. Paul Proveaux, a music major at Stetson University, will be baritone soloist.

Music for the service will include Ralph Vaughan Williams' setting of "O How Amiable Are Thy Dwellings," which introduces the great hymn-tune, "St. Anne," and the stirring text, "O God, Our Help in Ages Past." John Huston's contemporary setting of "O Be Joyful in the Lord" will be sung by the choir and solo quartet. The women's ensemble will offer "Like as a Father" by Italian composer, Luigi Cherubini and "The Lord God Is a Light and Defense," by Maurice Greene. The men's section will sing "Forever Blessed Be Thy Holy Name" by Handel. Also included will be Leo Sowerby's setting of "Psalm 121" and Everett Titcomb's "Behold Now, Praise the Lord." Choir and congregation will join in several well-known hymns including "St. Anne," "Sandor" and "Benedic Anima Mea."

All who find inspiration in great sacred choral literature of the ages are invited to become a part of this program for which there is no gate fee.

Weeders Guide

By EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures

Watch the leaves of your trees in summer. If they wilt and drop or lose color, there may be trouble.

Tree expert Robert A. Bartlett says trees shedding excess leaves in hot weather are compensating for lack of soil moisture. "It is a normal act of nature, especially if preceded by a wet spring," he says.

Excess elm leaves usually turn yellow and drop. The loss of color is not necessarily a sign of Dutch elm disease. Leaf scorch on horse chestnut and sugar maples is indicated by irregular brown leaf blotch. The blotching caused by hot sun and drying winds, is not regarded as serious by Bartlett.

"But," he added, "wilts require attention. Verticillium wilt, an internal fungus disease, affects maple, linden, elm and other trees. Removing the wilted branch and a chemotherapy injection is recommended. Wilt also is a sign of dangerous Dutch elm disease.

Fungus diseases may mar leaves of ash, dogwood, elm, hickory, linden, maple, oak and sycamore. Spray with fungicides.

Quick spraying is urged when chewing and sucking insects are discovered. These insects may cause leaves to become vapid and drop.

Mites are tiny insects that suck plant juices from leaves and needles of trees, flowers, shrubs and vegetables. To detect mites, hold a sheet of paper under a branch and shake the twigs. Mites, if present, will be seen on the paper as tiny, dark moving specks.

If leaves of oak, chestnut, linden, elm, birch and mapletrees appear dusty bronze, mite injury is likely.

One effect of mites is dry foliage. Needles of such evergreens as hemlock, spruce, arborvitae, red cedar and holly show a chlorotic condition. The culprit may be the common spruce mite, which usually spins a compact web on needles, or southern red mites.

Azaleas, boxwood, and privet are attacked by other mites. Fruit trees and ornamentals are popular with the European red mite. Millions, phlox and ivy are targets of two-spotted and red spider mites.

To control mites, spray. However, some miticides kill mites but not eggs. And remember, some species of mites produce several generations in a single season.

There is a mountain in Antarctica named for Dr. William C. Steere, director of the New York Botanical Garden. It is Mount Steere—11,486 feet tall. Dr. Steere has made 15 expeditions to the Arctic to study the Bryophytes, which include mosses and liverworts.

Dr. Steere says the question of survival of plants and animals under severe conditions, "at the very margin of survival, is becoming more and more timely as we consider the conditions existing on other planets and ponder seriously whether or not there can be living plantlike organisms there... The question of man's survival on an alien planet and of his cultivated plants raise still further questions."

Titusville Lions Plan Drum Corps Competition

The Titusville Lions Club announces that the York White Roses Junior Drum and Bugle Corps will be taking part in "Music in Motion" Saturday, Aug. 24, at Carter Field. Proceeds from the musical presentation will be used for the Lions' Save-an-Eye Fund.

Organized in 1960, the Roses are beginning their sixth year of field competition. They have won several titles, including 1966 VFW State Champions; 1966 American Legion State Champions; 1966 40 et 8 National Champions; 1967 VFW State Champions; 1967 American Legion State Champions; and 1967 Jaycee National Champions.

The corps is a self-supporting unit formed to promote youth activity through drum corps in the York area. This year the Roses are fielding a group of approximately 90 boys and girls which features primarily new music and drill formations.

Under Corps Director and President Ronald Rudy and Drum Major Bill Toomey, the York White Roses will compete against the Twin City Imperials, the Cambria Cadets, the Angels of Ohio and the Geneva Apple Knockers. The exhibition corps will be the Johnsonburg Diplomats.

White Roses instructors are: music and bugles, H. "Skip" Groff; drums, Robert Zarfoss and Walter Mitzel; drill, Barney Toomey; Color Guard, Richard Weidner.

Tickets for the 8 p.m. show are available from Lions Club members. The reserve seat exchange begins Aug. 19 at E. K. Thompson and Son, Inc.

Over the past 11 years the Lions have spent over $15,000 on their eye program.

Selected Viewing

Saturday, 10 p. m. — SPEAK-ING FREELY tonight features a wide-ranging discussion between NBC newsmen Edwin Newman and his guest, Floyd McKissick. The National Director of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) talks with Newman about one of the most pressing problems of our era,
the Negro struggle for equality.
Sunday, 7 p. m. — THE REAL REVOLUTION is a series of talks by the Indian philosopher and spiritual leader, Krishnamurti, on the problems and prospects for life in our modern world. Tonight on "Living and Death" he talks about what is perhaps our greatest fear, death.

Monday, 6 p. m. — THE STATE OF THE WEATHER is the most complete forecast of temperature and climate conditions available to those in the WPSX-TV viewing area. Sophisticated instruments aid Penn State meteorologists in their forecasts.

Tuesday, 10:30 p. m. — NOR-WAY is a four-program series that explains the background of contemporary life in that Scandinavian peninsula. Today,
"The Past" is reviewed, covering such events in the country's history as the days of the Viking explorers, the coming of the Black Plague, and the small nation's suffering during World War II.

Wednesday, 8:30 p. m. — FOLK GUITAR PLUS, the new series of advanced lessons featuring Laura Weber, premieres tonight. She teaches five notes on the recorder, as well as the song "Aunt Rody." The instruction booklet for the new series is available from WPSX-TV, 201
Wagner Building, University
Park, Pa., 16802, for two dollars.

Thursday, 8 p. m. — THE URBAN CRISIS covers one of the highlight sessions of the 22nd annual convention of the American Trial Lawyers Association. Eminent leaders of the bar, distinguished authorities from the academic world and government, examine the long-range problems and short-run solutions on this timely subject.

Friday, 9:30 p. m. — KALEI-DOSCOPE features host James Daly in conversation with interesting personalities. Tonight producer-director-author
Elia Kazan talks of success and what it does to the individual. He also discusses his work on stage, in the movies, and his newest book, "The Arrange-

Friday and Saturday LCW Convention at Thiel College in Greenville.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE — "The Lord God is a sun and shield: the Lord will give grace and glory: no good thing will he withhold from them that walk uprightly." These words from Psalms are the Golden Text of this week's Christian Science Lesson-Sermon titled SOUL. The Lesson-Sermon is the same in all Christian Science churches throughout the world.

One of the related passages to be read from the denominational textbook is the following: "Knowing that Soul and its attributes were forever manifested through man, the Master healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame, thus bringing to light the scientific action of the divine Mind on human minds and bodies and giving a better understanding of Soul and salvation. Jesus healed sickness and sin by one and the same metaphysical process" ("Science and Health with Key to the

Israel Latest Contributor To Women's Fashions

What is your Walter Mitty dream? To be a sexy siren of the pre-revolutionary Natasha? A Civil War Belle? A Bonnie and Clyde? A member of a Harem? A baby doll or a grandmother? The Israeli ready-to-wear market has garments for all dreams, realistic or not.

Very often the styles are so sensible and restrained that nobody would crack a single laugh line, if it were not for accessories. That is also true of clothes designed by very good American and French designers.

Photographers and models do their best to contribute to the humorous side of fashions, too. Italian fashion manikins used to be comedienne before the cameras. However, in recent years they have reverted to aloof disdainful poses of sophistication. Now the Israeli misses have taken up where they left off, clowning like clowns for their smile-happy, picture-snapping bosses.

The fact remains that a few inhibited people still exist, women who don't want to play games with fashion, or women who just want to play the role of a beautifully garbed, understated woman. For all the laughter in fashion, there are styles for her, too.

The word from Israel is that there is less of the uncompromisingly straight line to dresses and skirts more of a tendency to follow curves. Despite culottes and trousers, the emphasis is on femininity. Plus frivolity.

Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy).

All are invited to attend the services at 11 a. m., First Church of Christ, Scientist.

BETHEL UNITED METHODIST — Tomorrow at 9:45 a. m. Sunday School Hour. 11 a. m. Morning Worship Service. The Pastor, Rev. LeRoy Lundgren, will speak on the subject entitled, "Drifters or Paddlers". Mrs. Marilyn Durnell will provide the special music.

Saturday, August 24 — Loyalty Class will hold a Corn and Wiener Roast at the Buckaloons at 7 p. m. Bring your own meat — corn, coffee and dessert furnished.

FIRST UNITED METHODIST — The Rev. Elmer H. Reamer, Associate Pastor at First United Methodist Church, will preach the sermon at the 11:00 a. m. morning worship service. He has chosen for his sermon topic "Being In Love".

Bruce Lindquist, our guest organist, will play Prelude: "All Glory Be To God On High" by Johann Sebastian Bach and the postlude: Praise to the Lord, The Almighty" by Johann Gottfried Walther and for the offertory "Come, Holy Ghost, Lord God" by Friedrich Wilhelm Zachow. Our soloist for the day will be Mrs. Sheldon Conrad who will sing "The Lord Is My Light" by Frances Allitsen. There will be a nursery provided for infants and pre-school children during the 11 a. m. service.

EVANGELICAL UNITED METHODIST — of Youngsville, hymns will include "Christ The Lord Is Risen Today", "Holy Ghost With Light Divine", "Give Me Your Heart." There will be special music by Dan Thompson. The message will be "Decision Time" by the Rev. Spurgeon Witherow, minister.

Greeters for the day will be the James Thompsons and VI and Nancy Dunham.

6:30, Youth Fellowship, and at 7:30, Evening Worship — vacations are over, we've all been to Grandmothers! Let's come back to church to right where God would be pleased to see us all. Reports of youth trip will be given, bring a friend!

TUESDAY — 7, W.S.C.S. Executive Meeting at the church. Bernice Mourer would like to have every member present.

WEDNESDAY — 7, Mid-week power hour for boys-girls-youth — and adults. Attendance has been down all summer. Things been a little rough? Christ not as close or real? Perhaps YOU have been letting down on your prayer life. Come — you will receive help.

THURSDAY — 7, E.U.M. Men will meet and visit Rouse Home. 7, The fourth Thursday has been visitation night. I've given up on this for now, but if you want to go out for a while and would like a few suggestions, speak to the Pastor.

TRINITY MEMORIAL EPISCOPAL — For the 10th Sunday after Trinity will be the 8 a. m. Holy Eucharist and 10 a. m. Morning Prayer and Sermon. A nursery is provided for small children, and children in Kindergarten through Sixth Grade will see the movie "The Red Balloon" with activity and discussion following.

The 8 a. m. Eucharist will use the Liturgy from the Book of Common Prayer.

Beginning Monday, August 19, and continuing until Friday, August 30, there will be a Vacation Church School from 9 a. m. until noon. Sessions of the Vacation Church will not be held on the weekend of August 24 and 25. Youngsters from Kindergarten through eighth grade and from all faiths are welcome.

William Peterson is the guest organist for the 10 a. m. service and the Rector will be the preacher.

Monday through Friday, 9-12 noon, Vacation Church School. Tuesday, 9 a. m., T.W. Workshop.

Thursday, 10 a. m., Holy Eucharist.

FIRST CHURCH OF GOD BEGIN NOW

By Harold G. Powell
First Church of God

Luke 19:9 "And Jesus said to him: Today salvation has come to this house. . . ."

The wonderful thing about the story of Zacchaeus is that it all happened so suddenly. One moment he was the hated publican, the thief and the exploiter. The next moment he is a follower of Christ and a new man. It was because he did not wait for some future time, but made his decision to begin immediately. Jesus said that the change had taken place and salvation had happened that day.

After one of D. L. Moody's meetings, a locomotive engineer came forward and said he had decided to become a missionary to a foreign country. Moody asked him if his fireman was a Christian. "I don't know," was the reply, "I never asked him." "Well," said Moody, "why don't you start with your fireman?" The important and crucial thing is to decide to start now and here.

The early circuit riding preachers were sometimes called "Now preachers" for they insisted that the decision and change had to be made NOW. They had so little time and it would be weeks before they would be back to preach again. It had to be now or for some of their hearers it would be never.

1. The hardest thing always is to begin. You want to write a book, and the battle is well along when you begin to actually put words on the paper. Many a person plans to write a particular letter but they cannot begin. You want to break a habit, but you are afraid to say: "I shall start now." Rather, you say that you will begin sometime soon. You are going to be a better man and sincere Christian. When? Well, do not hurry us, you say. Give me time, but on the pathway to hell lie the best intentions unfilled and unrealized. The only hope is to make the first move today.

2. One of the most cheering things to say about the Christian life is that the way becomes increasingly plain and attractive after the beginning is made. The whole adventure begins to beckon and the experiences begin to enthrall us. Every step on the Christian way becomes easier and every move toward the goal makes the next one more inevitable. God has not given us a path that demands only will power and hard courage. It charms us with God's blessings and, after we have walked a way with Him, we would not turn back or aside if we could. Only begin, and let the tomorrows solve their own problems, for God's tomorrows will be full of unexpected rewards and surprises.

3. This is the main secret of achievement. The lives of men who have succeeded in hard things are not unhappy lives. They have been able to start and fall into the habits of duty and service, until their hard way brought them satisfactions beyond defining. God made man to achieve and there is no happiness on any other path. The outside sees only the discipline and difficulty, while the man himself experiences the freedom and the triumph. The man who finds the power to begin with God where he is and begin now has mastered the main secret of making the most out of this life and winning the ultimate crown of eternal life.

Bingo and Politics

DATELINE: Harrisburg -

Confronted during a press conference with the information that Bingo was in play across the street from the State Capitol, Governor Shafer bucked the question to his top legal aide.

Bingo, explained Attorney General William C. Sennett, was a matter for local law enforcement agencies.

Bingo is not legal in Pennsylvania. In Lehigh County, the authorities once arrested a clergyman for running a gambling establishment. In Berks County, Bingo ranked as a major campaign issue five years ago and was shut down tight after a Republican defeated a Democratic district attorney, and the Republicans won City Hall for the first time in more than a decade.

This spring, with a Democratic mayor in Reading's City Hall and a Democratic district attorney in the Berks County Courthouse, Bingo got the green light. The new mayor, Victor Yarnell, said simply that the folks could go ahead and play and that the city wouldn't prosecute. Nobody else was prosecuting, Mayor Yarnell reasoned. Why should Reading? The example has had its influence elsewhere in Berks County and Bingo has blossomed out in more than one rural firehouse and country meeting hall.

Clearly, not the governor, nor Pennsylvania's attorney general, nor the Berks County district attorney is prepared to engage in political masochism. To shut down Bingo games would be to mess around with all kinds of organized voting blocks - like church people, volunteer firemen, veteran groups and the fraternal organizations.

The House of Representatives passed Bingo legislation last fall - just in time for the municipal elections - but it has languished in Senate Committee.

In a burst of candor, Rep. Stanley R. Kester, R-Delaware, battling for tax-free Bingo, gave the House a lucid rundown of a game he says he helps conduct as a member of the volunteer fire company in Feltonville, Pa. On a weekly gross of $1,100 Rep. Kester explained, $900 goes out in prizes. After expenses there is hardly enough left to warrant a tax on the game.

Warned by House Speaker Kenneth B. Lee, R-Sullivan, that "these remarks are being taped", Rep. Kester shrugged. "I'm aware of that," he said.

To Speaker Lee and members of the House, Rep. Kester's revelations hardly seemed worth the risk. Bingo for charity and for non-profit purposes had the blessings of the House Republican leadership and the promise of a signature from Gov. Shafer - if it passed.

Since last November, the proposal has drifted in and out of the Senate Rules Committee and onto the floor on two different occasions. Now it is in position for final passage in the Senate, but with some severe amendments.

One of the amendments to H-1501, being proposed by Sen. John Van Sant, R-Lehigh, is the imposition of a 5 percent tax, across the board, on the gross receipts of Bingo games. In addition, there would be an annual license charge of from $10 to $500 depending on frequency of play by a single sponsor.

At five percent, Sen. Van Sant figures, the State's income from Bingo would amount to $50 million. Nobody has a running total on Bingo receipts in Pennsylvania. But, based on Van Sant's estimate of tax revenue, it must be worth $1 billion annually.

Under another major change in the legislation in the Senate version, Bingo would become universal in Pennsylvania, without any local option votes.

Reagan to Work for Nixon

WASHINGTON — Gov. Ronald Reagan of California has publicly announced that he will campaign for Richard Nixon. But close friends of Reagan say he won't. Maybe he'll make a few speeches in California; but, unless his present mood changes, that'll be all.

Inside reason is that relations between Reagan and Nixon, two Californians representing the conservative wing of the GOP, were not cordial in Miami Beach. At times they tended toward the vitriolic.

In the first place, Reagan was convinced that Nixon was behind the movement which rounded up around 700,000 signatures demanding that he be recalled. Reagan figured that Nixon had inspired this as a means of embarrassing him just prior to the Miami Beach convention.

Second, Reagan really thought he had a chance to get the nomination. He was vastly encouraged at first by Southern delegates, and took himself quite seriously.

One of those in whom he confided was Gov. James Rhodes of Ohio, to whom he offered the position of Vice President on the Reagan ticket. Rhodes, a skilled politician who plays his cards close to his chest, would not commit himself. He did promise Reagan that he would hold his Ohio delegation intact for two ballots, and indicated that if after that Reagan was a serious candidate he, Rhodes, would plump for Reagan on the third ballot.

Nixon was worried over the fact that Reagan picked up the story printed in this column that Nixon advisors had recommended Sen. Ed Brooke, the Massachusetts Negro, to be Vice President. Reagan forces copied the column and made sure it was delivered to every Southern delegation.

The whole Reagan movement frightened Nixon. The two men left Miami Beach publicly cooperative but privately not friends.

DAN T. MOORE, JR., CLEVELAND HEIGHTS, OHIO — No Vice President of the United States in this century has differed with his chief in the White House with the possible exception of Charles G. Dawes, Vice President under Coolidge.

On March 10, 1925, Dawes was late in getting up to the Senate to break a tie vote on the confirmation of Charles B. Warren to be Attorney General. The vote was 40-40, and if Dawes had

Reform Conventions

In the blissful interval between the two conventions, survivors of the first, particularly those who are bound for the second, have been ruminating on the institution, and asking themselves what might be done to improve it.

Surely some reforms are obvious. Favorite sons should be nominated in the morning of Wednesday. I see no particular reason why the speeches in nomination, or those that second the nomination, should be limited, under the circumstances. No one will be listening anyway, not even, one suspects, first cousins of the favorite son. The television networks would be free to cover the speeches or not, as they choose. The listening public would be relieved of the mischievous effect of night-nominations, which is to delay the balloting for president until early in the morning, ruining one's subsequent working day.

Rather this, I should think, than a serious attempt to abolish the idea of the favorite son. That idea should be preserved, not only because on the unusual occasion a favorite son may command attention, but because it is a genial way for a state, under special circumstances, to pay special tribute to - a favorite son. It is a pity, of course, that the practice has been so greatly abused.

And it is testimony to the eternal vanity of man that even such cool numeros as Clifford Case of New Jersey permit these cloying oblations. It is one thing to see a Harold Stassen nominated: his eccentric conceit and utter humorless narcissism put him beyond the line of vexatiousness - one merely feels sorry for him, as, say, for Senator Morse. But a Clifford Case, all cool and book-weathered and high-minded; why doesn't he say to the boys, look, boys, sure I'll hold the delegation together, but when time comes actually to nominate me for President, just say: "I nominate Clifford Case," and let the seconds say: "I second the nomination of Clifford Case."

One way to cut down on the number of favorite sons would be to decree that the one with the fewest votes at the end of the first ballot would be publicly executed. That might, however, strike some of the smaller states as too drastic. So why not leave it that they can go at a time of day when nothing else is happening? Such a simple reform: so easy to effect mechanically.

Then there is the matter of polling the delegation. That happens, you will recall, at almost exactly the moment that you least want it to happen, i.e., when great excitement has built up. It is the exact equivalent of the television commercial that comes in just when the hero has been pinned to the wall by George Raft. Surely convention officials could arrange for polling to be conducted in private, with the old lady-tabulator instructed to accept the chairman's count until and unless the individual balloting finds it false? So that it would go as follows:

Delegate: Mr. Chairman, the California delegation requests that it be polled. Chairman: Request granted. COLORADO.

After all, it is a little unseemly to suggest that the chairman of a delegation deliberately miscounted the votes. Rather like a teller rising at an examiner's meeting and requesting that the bank president's figures be re-examined. If we need a compromise between accepting as presumptively correct the word of the chairman, and testing that word there and then against the individually stated votes of every member of the delegation, why not wire in all state chairmen to a lie-detecting device, so that when the chairman says twenty votes for Rockefeller and twenty-two votes for Nixon, a great big blip will go up on a screen if the chairman is lying? THEN you can poll the delegation.

And, finally, on the matter of the demonstrations, I myself do not mind them. Granted, I do not look at them; but I do not even mind other people looking at them. There are those who deem them undignified. Quite so, and therefore they are perfectly appropriate to politics. I cannot imagine why anyone who is prepared to countenance the systematic dissimulations of great big president-aspiring politicians should bother to criticize rotarian exhibitions of enthusiasm expressed by mere balloons and confetti.

Senator Morton, who looked straight into the television camera one hundred times at Miami Beach and swore that Nixon would not be nominated on the first ballot, that Rockefeller would come in along about the second, or third - calmly confessed, after it was all over, that he knew perfectly well, ten days before the convention, that Nixon would get it on the first. And people resent the humbuggery of the demonstrations!

been present he could have voted with Coolidge. There was speculation at that time that Dawes was purposely late because he was at odds with the chief executive.

This is the only publicized case of a difference between the President and Vice President in this century. Critics who assert Vice President Humphrey should differ with LBJ over Vietnam forget this.

Even Jack Garner, twice Vice President under Franklin D. Roosevelt, did not differ with FDR publicly, though privately they were at odds on many New Deal policies.

Vice President Nixon was most obsequious toward President Eisenhower, even after Ike, asked at a press conference to name what Nixon had contributed to the administration, hesitated and said he could not answer. He said he would need some time to think it over.

ROBERT HAGAN, YOUNGSTOWN, OHIO — Dave McDonald, former president of the United Steelworkers, has two reasons for backing Nixon. First, Dave is on the outs with his union, which ousted him and which supports Humphrey; second, Nixon did a service for the United Steelworkers when McDonald was president, and helped settle the 1959 steel strike. Secretary of Labor James Mitchell negotiated a settlement with Arthur Goldberg, then counsel for the Steelworkers. Vice President Nixon then sold it to industry. This was done without Eisenhower's knowledge. It brought an end to a strike which was crippling the country and could have hurt Nixon's chances in 1960.

NORMAN BEACH, POOLESVILLE, MD. — Contrary to some reports, Rep. Charles Mathias of Maryland was not for Rockefeller because of any financial offers to support Mathias's campaign. Mathias felt that Gov. Rockefeller's position and experience on urban and Negro problems made him a better presidential candidate. It was difficult for Mathias to take this position, in view of Gov. Agnew's staunch championship of Richard Nixon; but the decision was one of conscience, not political contributions.

LINDA TARLER, GAINESVILLE, FLA. — The Senate voted on the poultry inspection bill on July 29, one day before our column of July 30. Hence the apparent error in reporting that the Holland amendment, which would have weakened poultry inspection, was still an issue. The Holland amendment was defeated overwhelmingly by the Senate one day before the column was published.
